

NO DECISION WAS REACHED
ON THE VIADUCT PROBLEM

An executive session was held by the board of police commissioners last night, to which was invited the members of the present grand jury, the editors of the three Atlanta daily newspapers, Bishop Nelson and Dr. John E. White, pastor of the Second Baptist church, for the purpose of discussing the agitation for the removal of the disreputable houses from beneath the Washington street viaduct. Neither Bishop Nelson nor Dr. White were present, but a letter from Dr. White was read.

Beyond discussion, nothing was accomplished at the meeting, according to the following statement issued at its close by John J. Woodside, chairman of the police board:

"The meeting held tonight was for the purpose of hearing the fullest and freest discussion of the agitation for the removal of the disreputable houses from beneath the Washington street viaduct. To the meeting the police board invited the members of the grand jury, the editors of the three Atlanta daily newspapers, Bishop Nelson and Dr. White. A majority of the members of the grand jury were present. The Constitution and The Journal sent representatives and Dr. White sent a letter, which was read.

"The meeting was characterized by free and frank discussion of the problem with which we have to deal. Opinion of many shades was expressed, and various suggestions were made. The members of the grand jury were asked to speak as citizens and give the board the benefit of their views, and many of them complied. Beyond this discussion, nothing was done. The board appreciates the presence of the grand jurors and Dr. White's letter, but would have preferred to have had both Dr. White and Bishop Nelson discuss this question with its members face to face, and I stand ready to call a meeting at their convenience that this may be accomplished. At this time it is impossible for me to make any statement as to what will be done next."

Farmers Plan a Great Central Building in New Orleans

Watson to the Convention

Georgian Addresses the Gathering at New Orleans—Addresses Were Also Made by Messrs. Landon and Seely, of Atlanta.

Letter From Gov. Smith.

New Orleans, November 12.—The building of a large central warehouse at New Orleans, where the planters of half a dozen or more states can store their cotton and hold it until they choose to sell, is now practically assured.

The Farmers' Educational and Cooperative Union, in convention assembled, tonight endorsed the scheme by an almost unanimous vote, and authorized their committee appointed yesterday to proceed with the plans.

This committee will confer with a similar one from the New Orleans Progressive Union at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, and an agreement is to be reached as to what the business men can promise the farmers, and what the farmers can promise the business men.

Warehouse to Be Public.
The idea of the Progressive Union's committee is to make the warehouse a public one, controlled by a commission, Governor Saunders has endorsed the plan. He says that he will give all the aid desired and will call a special session of the legislature of Louisiana, if necessary, to make provisions for the project.

The gist of the resolutions passed tonight by the farmers is that the surplus supply of each crop of cotton should be kept at home, and for the account of home owners, instead of in European warehouses for the account of foreign owners, it being clearly evident that cotton is worth more when marketed as the trade demands than when sold while there is no mill demand.

The committee representing the union in the warehouse matter follows:
T. J. Brooks, Tennessee; G. R. Hightower, Mississippi; J. Z. Greene, North Carolina; J. W. Boyett, Jr., Louisiana; L. H. O'Meara, Georgia; and L. H. Morris, Alabama.

Must Control 1,000,000 Bales.
It was stipulated that the committee representing the Farmers' Union should have at its disposal a million bales of cotton to sell whenever it deems the market capable of absorbing them. The matter of securing warehouse certificates for the cotton and making them negotiable at local banks was also placed in the committee's hands.

The convention also adopted a resolution urging all the states to appoint agricultural commissions such as exist in Georgia.

Chairman Barrett read a letter from Governor Hoke Smith, of Georgia, expressing his regret at not being able to attend the meeting. Governor Smith said that official business had kept him in Atlanta. His letter, which was very lengthy, was much in the nature of an address to the delegates, outlining views pertaining to the cotton problem. He said that the buyer should seek the seller, and not the seller the buyer, and the cotton should be marketed faster than the manufacturers need it.

Governor Saunders, who welcomed the delegates to the city, was the first speaker at the morning session. Among others who made addresses were F. L. Seely and C. T. Landon, of Atlanta.

Watson Addresses Convention.
Trade relations between China and America and a strong renunciation of the trusts were the principal topics discussed by speakers tonight at the convention of the Farmers' Educational and Cooperative Union. The former subject was the theme of an address by Li Sum Ling, editor of a paper at Hong Kong, China, while Thomas E.

TRAIN CARRIED AUTO
ON ITS COW-CATCHER

Edmonton, Ga., November 12.—(Special.) Last night, while returning from a fishing trip in an automobile, Dr. A. S. Oliver and his son were run into by a shifting Seaboard freight train. They were crossing the track at Oliver street, and the train struck the machine in the middle, throwing it, with the occupants, upon the cow-catcher. The train ran nearly to the Southern depot.

Governor Patterson Made Speech at Union City.

He Had Received Warning He Was Warned Through the Mails Not to Come to Obion County and Make Speech—He Was, However, Unmolested.

Union City, Tenn., November 12.—Before an audience assembled from all parts of Obion county, and which filled all available space in the circuit court room, Governor Patterson today delivered a telling speech on law and order, and especially on the machinery set on foot to punish the murderers of Quentin Rankin.

Governor Patterson has recently received warnings through the mail not to come to Obion county again, but today he walked unmolested from his hotel to the court room and returned.

Governor Patterson today issued orders for the reduction of the military forces on duty in the lake region. Colonel Tatom, in command, and a large part of the forces are relieved of further duty, and will return home. Forty men will be retained at Camp Nemo, and fifty here, where the grand jury is investigating the situation. The forces will be under Captain C. S. Rogan, United States army, retired, on duty with the national guard state of Tennessee.

Appeal to Supreme Court

Announcement is Made by the Department of Justice That Supreme Court Will Be Asked to Review Action of the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Washington, November 12.—In a statement given out by the department of justice tonight it was announced that an application would be made to the supreme court of the United States when it reconvenes on Monday, November 30, for a writ of certiorari to bring up and review the action of the circuit court of appeals in refusing the government a rehearing of the now famous $29,000,000 Standard Oil case.

The decision was reached after an all-day conference between Attorney General Bonaparte and government attorneys who have been engaged in the case. It was found that a number of changes had been made in the opinion of the court of appeals originally rendered, and that Judge Baker, of that court, filed a separate concurring opinion which differed materially in its reasoning from that of Judge Grosscup.

The following statement was issued late tonight by the department immediately following the adjournment of the final conference, which began at 9 o'clock:

"A prolonged conference was held yesterday at the department of justice with respect to the action of the circuit court of appeals in Chicago in refusing a rehearing of the Standard Oil case. At different times during the day Attorney General Bonaparte was in consultation with Solicitor General Hilly, United States Attorney Sims, of Chicago, and his assistant, J. H. Wilkerson, and F. K. Kellogg, special counsel in the civil suits against the Standard Oil Company. It was found that a considerable number of changes had been made in the opinion of the court of appeals originally rendered, and that Judge Baker, of that court, filed a separate concurring opinion which differed materially in its reasoning from that of Judge Grosscup. After a careful review of all phases of the situation, it was determined that an application should be made to the supreme court of the United States when it reconvenes on Monday, November 30, for a writ of certiorari to bring up and review the action of the circuit court of appeals. The necessary papers for this purpose will be prepared without delay."

Standard Trust Loaned $7,500,000 to T. N. Barnsdall.

Mystery About Barnsdall

Government Tries to Find Out Something About Man Who Was Able to Touch Rockefeller for Such a Sum, but Gets Little Information.

New York, November 12.—The name of "the mysterious Mr. Barnsdall," as he is called by Frank W. Kellogg, the government's counsel who has figured many times before in the testimony in connection with the government's suit against the Standard Oil Company, was again brought into the case today.

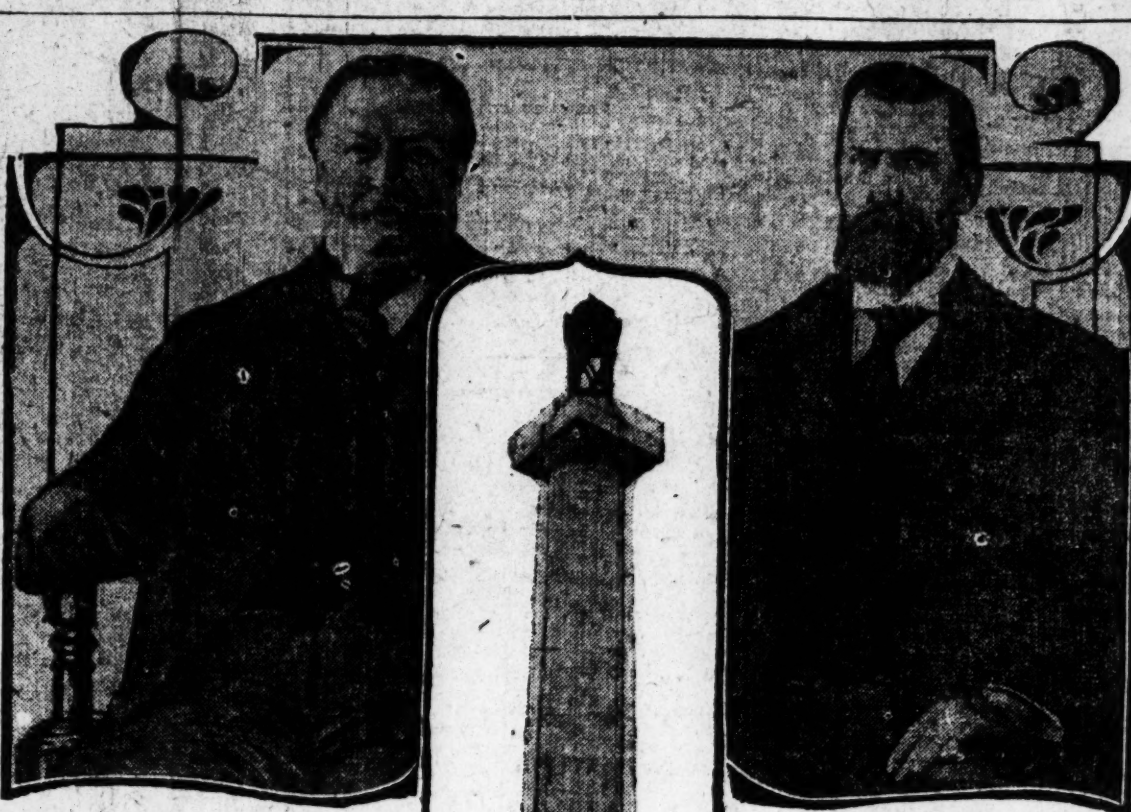

Session of the hearing. It appears from testimony previously given that T. N. Barnsdall had borrowed $7,500,000 from the Standard Oil Company and ever since this fact developed, Mr. Kellogg has been trying to learn all the details of that transaction. That his desire for knowledge in that direction has not yet been satisfied became apparent today when he sought to obtain information regarding Barnsdall from W. H. Johnson.

He Had Heard of Barnsdall.
Mr. Johnson is vice president of the Midcontinent Oil Producers' Association, and one of the leading oil producers of the Oklahoma field. Mr. Johnson said he was slightly acquainted with Barnsdall and had had few business dealings with him. He had no knowledge of his present whereabouts, or why he had borrowed the $7,500,000, or even that he had borrowed it.

Mr. Johnson criticized the government regulations concerning the control and construction of pipeline lines in Oklahoma. He said these regulations kept capitalists from building pipe lines, and that only by the use of pipe lines could the Midcontinent oil fields be developed. He believed that if the regulations were modified the capital for the construction of the lines would be forthcoming.

William Geiser, an oil producer of Neodesha, Kan., said he was the first man to sell out to the Prairie Oil and Gas Company. That company, he declared, had been just and equitable in its dealings with producers, both as to price and shipments.

Complained of Government.
Geiser complained of what he characterized the obnoxious requirements of the department of the interior in controlling the erection and operation of pipe lines. He would not assent to the

CREMATED WIDOW
AND 3 CHILDREN

That Is Charge Made Against Ray Lamphere.

Evidence to Begin Today

State Alleges That Lamphere Hated Mrs. Guinness and Set Fire to Her House, the Widow and Her Children Being Consumed.

Laporte, Ind., November 12.—The introduction of evidence in the trial of Ray Lamphere for the murder of Mrs. Belle Guinness and her three children by setting fire to the house, will begin tomorrow morning, a jury having been secured late this afternoon.

State's Attorney Smith made his opening statement to the jury before the adjournment of the court.

The statement consumed an hour, and in it he went much into detail as to what he would prove. After the reading of the indictment Mr. Smith said: "There has been a lot of talk in the questioning by the defense about poisoning. We charge Ray Lamphere with setting fire to Belle Guinness' house, I do not know whether the defense will offer the poison theory or not, but the evidence will prove the charges as we have made them in the indictment. The first element of our proof will show that Ray Lamphere set fire to the house. The second element of proof will be that he killed Mrs. Guinness and her three children."

What Evidence Will Show.
Mr. Smith said that the evidence will show that Lamphere made remarks to various persons indicating his hatred for Mrs. Guinness and his intention to do her harm. Taking up the story of the night of the fire, the prosecutor said that by Lamphere's own statement it could be proven that he set the alarm clock at Mrs. Smith's house, where he spent the night, for 3 o'clock in the morning of April 28, and that fifteen or twenty minutes later he left there.

We will also prove," continued the state's attorney, "that he took the road going by the Guinness house and that he was on the spot when the fire broke out at 4 o'clock, and that he was the only person around at that time. We will show by the evidence that when he was arrested at 7 o'clock that the first thing he said was 'Did those folks get out of the house?' So you see the foremost thing in his mind was the burning of that house."

Identity of Woman's Body.
The proof of the identity of Mrs. Guinness' body, he said, will be shown by the finding of Mrs. Guinness' rings on the fingers and the finding of the woman's dental work.

From statements made tonight it is apparent that there will not be much contention over the identification of the adult body found in the ruins, the defense relying mainly upon the testimony of Dr. Haines, of Chicago, to deny the finding of arsenic and strychnine in the stomachs of Mrs. Guinness and two of the children indicated that they could not have lost their lives by suffocation and fire.

Coroner Mack, of Laporte county, was the first witness called.

At 1 o'clock the fire had made great headway, and later in the afternoon, it was decided that any further attempts to rescue the entombed men were in vain, owing to the impossibility of entering the galleries.

At the same time an order was issued to flood the mine. First reports indicated that the accident was the result of an explosion of coal dust, but the statements of the injured men rendered this improbable, and it is not clear just what caused it.

KAISER'S TONGUE
WILL BE CURBED

Federal Council of Germany Will Take Action.

Empire Greatly Stirred

And It Is Believed Federal Council Will Find a Way to Restrain the Kaiser—Theodore Barth on the Situation in Germany.

Berlin, November 12.—The fire members of the foreign affairs committee of the federal council held a meeting today and discussed recent events. Much interested speculation was aroused by the intimation that the meeting was called with the idea of taking some step to prevent Emperor William from pursuing an independent course in the foreign affairs of the empire.

Many Rumors.
Today has been full of rumor and surmise concerning what attitude Emperor William would adopt toward Chancellor von Bismarck, the reichstag, and public sentiment at large. His majesty spent the day fox hunting and had breakfast in the forest. Prince von Furstenberg, his most intimate friend, is with him.

There is satisfaction that his majesty is with the prince, whose influence is regarded as restraining and wise. There is considerable doubt as to whether or not Prince von Bismarck will remain in office, and free mention is made of possible successors.

It is understood that the meeting of the federal council is called at the instance of Bavaria. According to newspaper statements, Luitpold, the prince regent of Bavaria, is intensely exasperated because of Emperor William's latest venture into foreign politics. In other words, the publication of The London Telegraph interview, as an act which has resulted in a degree of criticism of his majesty for the past two days in the reichstag never before equaled.

Barth on Situation.
Dr. Theodore Barth, for many years the leader of the advanced wing of the radical party in the reichstag, has written the following definition of the political situation today in Germany:

"The debate in the reichstag directed against the personal government of the emperor will have the effect only of a sham fight with parliamentary blank cartridges until it is understood that in Prussia and Germany personal government does not depend upon the temperance and character of the present emperor, but represents the deep-seated and old Prussian governmental system which Bismarck transferred to the German empire. Personal government can only be abolished by a determined avowed system of parliamentary government similar to that existing in England, France, Italy and other countries. No change in the constitution of any act introducing ministerial responsibility is necessary for the attainment of this end."

Reichstag Can Check Kaiser.
The system of parliamentary government in England was brought about without alteration of the constitution. The king of England, even today is empowered to act, as is Emperor William, in the filling of ministerial posts, but the British parliament, owing to its control of the budget, could make the carrying out of his duties impossible for any minister who enjoyed only the confidence of the sovereign and not that of the house of commons.

The German reichstag, constitutionally, is in a similar position. It need only to resolve, and national public opinion must compel it to resolve on such a proceeding.

"The role of democratic liberalism is to take the lead in this constitutional battle, and it is the duty of the more moderate liberals to collaborate, but so long as the members of that party are bound by the chains of the 'Bloc' they cannot fulfill their duty. At present they have joined the conservatives, who combat every sincere effort toward constitutionalism. This the conservatives do because, owing to their relations to the crown, they do better business under the personal system."

339 LIVES

Horror Caused in Germany by Explosion of Fire Damp.

Only 35 Miners Escaped

Over Three Hundred Bodies Are Still in the Wrecked Mine. Heartrending Scenes Enacted at the Mouth of the Mine.

Hamm, Westphalia, Germany, November 12.—The greatest mine disaster in many years in Germany occurred this morning in the Radbod mine, about three miles from this place. There was a heavy explosion in the mine about 4 o'clock this morning, and almost immediately the mine took fire. There were 380 miners working under the ground at the time, and thirty-five were taken out slightly injured, and thirty-seven were dead when brought to the mouth of the pit. The remaining 302 have been given up for lost.

The explosion, which was unusually violent, destroyed one of the shafts, which had to be partly repaired before the rescue work was begun. In addition, the flames and smoke proved almost insurmountable obstacles in the early efforts of the rescuing parties.

A special corps, composed of the men, who rendered such valuable aid in the terrible mine disaster at Courrières, France, in March of 1906, arrived on the scene shortly before noon, and were unable to enter the mine, being forced to wait the result of the determined efforts of the firemen to keep the flames in check.

Meantime heartrending scenes were being enacted at the mine when the dead and wounded were brought to the surface, and there were similar scenes in the town where the injured were transported through the streets to the hospitals.

At 1 o'clock the fire had made great headway, and later in the afternoon, it was decided that any further attempts to rescue the entombed men were in vain, owing to the impossibility of entering the galleries.

At the same time an order was issued to flood the mine. First reports indicated that the accident was the result of an explosion of coal dust, but the statements of the injured men rendered this improbable, and it is not clear just what caused it.

EX-SHERIFF HELD IN CARMACK CASE

John D. Sharp Arrested on Charge of Murder.

Sharp with the Coopers

Ex-Sheriff Has Been Placed in Room at Jail With Col. Cooper, Witnesses Appearing Before the Grand Jury to Tell About the Killing of Carmack.

Nashville, Tenn., November 12.—(Special.)—The situation in Nashville, growing out of the killing of former United States Senator Carmack by Robin Cooper, has grown more intense with the arrest of John D. Sharp, former sheriff of Davidson county, and more recently a representative in the legislature. The ex-sheriff was arrested today about noon by Sheriff Sam H. Borum, one of Sharp's old deputies, on a warrant sworn out by Attorney General Jeff McCann before Justice Jake Levine.

The warrant reads, as follows: "The day of November, 1908, one John D. Sharp was guilty of murdering Edward Carmack and was present, advising, aiding and abetting Robin Cooper and Duncan E. Cooper in way-laying, shooting and murdering the said Edward Ward Carmack. All of the said facts and things happened in Davidson county, Tennessee, on the day and date above mentioned."

The Arrest of Sharp.
Shortly after noon General McCann hurriedly left the court house, where, during the morning, the grand jury had been investigating the death of ex-Senator Carmack, going to the magistrate's office and having the warrant issued. The process was served by the sheriff himself, Borum finding Sharp in the office of M. H. Meeks, an attorney, in conversation with Mr. Meeks and Major T. F. P. Allison, former commissioner of agriculture and a strong Carmack man.

Whether or not the arrest came as a surprise to Mr. Sharp is not known, but Wednesday night in some way the rumor got abroad that Sharp would be arrested in connection with the killing of Mr. Carmack.

that the arrest was made is not known. She was among the witnesses before the jury this morning. The attorney general declined to make any statement whatever about the matter.

No Statement by Sharp.

It has been published since the tragedy that Sharp had been in the Coopers shortly before the fatal meeting of the Coopers and Carmack, and his failure to make a statement regarding the matter was attributed by friends to the fact that he was experienced in the ways of criminal trials and for that reason reserved what he had to say until placed on the witness stand, whatever his testimony may be.

Early after the shooting, when approached for a statement, Mr. Sharp said he had nothing to say, but if he later decided to make a statement, he would write it and tell all he knew and saw. He stated that it was hardly possible that he would make a statement, Attorney Meeks, speaking for him today, said:

"The grand jury is now investigating the tragedy, but as soon as it is practicable, application for bail for Mr. Sharp will be made."

Sharp Opposed to Carmack.

During the recent campaign for the gubernatorial nomination, Sharp was a warm supporter of Governor Patterson, being seen with him during most of the joint canvass with Carmack. He was also a close friend of Colonel Cooper, and when his name was mentioned as a probable witness of the tragedy, it was naturally thought that his testimony would be as favorable as possible to the Coopers. Sharp's residence is not far from the scene of where the shooting occurred, and he joins the governor's mansion on Seventh avenue, north, to which the Coopers claim they were going when the encounter took place.

The Sharns are among the best-known people in the county. John O. Sharp's brother having recently been elected criminal court clerk.

Grand Jury at Work.

The grand jury took up the investigation this morning, several witnesses being examined, including the city attorney, the city clerk, the city engineer, a reporter on the paper, Mr. Morgan and Carey Folk, clerk in the office of the treasurer, Reau E. Folk, and brother of Governor Joseph W. Folk, of Missouri.

The reports of the Tennessee in question is known to have held a consultation with the officer in charge at the police station Sunday night following which the lieutenant opened a drawer and handed the young man several cartridges, which he took, and these were the cartridges for Senator Carmack's pistol, though the officer since has declined to discuss the matter.

Tells Facts About Caffeine in Coffee.

"About twelve years ago I stopped coffee," writes a Colo. man, "and began Postum. As a result, instead of being a confirmed dyspeptic as I was for many years, I enjoy good health and fine digestion."

"I formerly weighed 115 lbs. and now 140. My waist measure was 29, now 30 inches. Not only this, but I enjoy Postum and my meals, while for years eating was an annoyance and often a torture."

"Like an old whisky toper, I always thought I had to have my coffee and then always felt its ill effects in my stomach and on my nerves."

"Now I have so completely lost my taste for coffee, that recently, when a cup was given me by mistake and I tasted it, I found it nauseated me. On the other hand I find Postum to be a healthful effect of Postum, but the taste is peculiarly agreeable to me."

"I have tried other cereal drinks, but always come back to Postum. Realizing as I do, the evil effects from the poisonous alkaloid in coffee, and being a Postum Pioneer, I am a very successful missionary."

"One man, a school superintendent, from my recommendation, has had quite as happy an experience with Postum as I have had. My wife has also found great benefit from Postum, as coffee was the only thing which disagreed with her stomach at table."

"Being a graduate in pharmacy, I know the alkaloid-caffeine in coffee is a poisonous drug. As there is no drug in Postum, I naturally drink it and recommend it to others."

CHINA'S EMPEROR SLOWLY SINKING

Foreign Governments Are Notified of His Condition.

WESTERN DOCTORS BARRED

Medical Men From the Occident Not Allowed to Attend Sick Ruler. There Are Even Rumors Among the People of Emperor's Death.

Peking, November 12.—It is the consensus of opinion in Peking that the emperor of China is very sick, and today he is reported as still sinking. He will not accept western medical attendance.

The condition of the emperor is so serious that the various officials are sending cables to their respective governments.

There have been rumors among the people of the death of the emperor. And his little brother, the infant son of Prince Chun, has been brought into the palace.

The emperor has been suffering for ten years past from chronic nephritis, a condition now complicated with diabetes and senility. It is admitted that his brain is affected.

The legations stand ready to lend their physicians to attend his majesty, but in August of this year the dowager empress declined offers to this end made by the British and German legations, and consequently no further offers have been made. Although the government has gazetted during the past few days audiences between the emperor and members of the grand council, there is reason to believe that these have been in name only. There probably has been no actual audience since November 8. It is known that yesterday an absolutely untrue statement of an audience was made public.

SECRETARIES IN SESSION

Purpose of Meeting is to Improve Work of the Association.

A conference of the secretaries of the railroad departments of the Young Men's Christian Association, connected with the Southern railway system, is being held in the Railroad Young Men's Christian Association's rooms at the corner of Alabama and Forsyth streets.

Three sessions were held yesterday, and after a business session this morning the body will adjourn.

Those in attendance are: H. O. Williams, the international secretary, at Richmond, Va.; G. C. Huntington, state secretary of North and South Carolina, at Charlotte; G. B. Lowry, secretary at Monroe, Va.; B. F. Stevenson, secretary at Spencer, N. C.; A. C. Van Campen, secretary at Knoxville, Tenn.; W. C. Matthews, secretary at Selma, Ala.; E. L. Kerner, secretary at Oakland, Tenn.; W. A. Waggoner, general secretary of the Atlanta association, and E. E. Cavaleri, assistant secretary.

The local Young Men's Christian Association is represented by J. P. Jackson, general secretary, and E. E. Henning, assistant secretary, and H. B. Frye, who is the educational director.

The purpose of the convention will be to discuss the best methods of conducting the work of the association. Interesting and instructive papers were read during the sessions on keeping the association building in first-class order and the best methods of conducting the shop and Bible classes.

$10,000 Fire at Augusta.

Augusta, Ga., November 12.—(Special.) Fire started in the rear of a dry goods store owned by J. E. Edey, at Broad and McCarden streets, tonight about 8 o'clock, and although the department quickly gained control of the flames, an approximate damage of $10,000 was the result by fire, water and smoke.

The origin of the flames is unknown.

The Remarkable Will

Of A Doctor

He Leaves the Secret of Life to His Children and the World.

One of the world's greatest physicians upon his death bed called his children about him and said: "When I die I will leave the secret of life. As I have discovered it in my practice."

When they read his will it directed them to a safety vault which contained a large envelope marked thus: "The Secret of Life." Upon opening it they read: "Don't abuse the stomach." This profound thinker after a long life of medicine knew the stomach to be the throne of man.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will help you make a stomach healthy. If it is worn out and lacks the fluids of digestion these tablets will take the place of such fluids.

If it is filled with poisonous juices, these tablets will neutralize and remove such poison. If you cannot eat without agony these tablets will show you how to eat. You will eat foolishly, or drink excessively, or if business demands abuse of stomach, these tablets after meals will make such abuse light, for they take the hardship away from the stomach.

They are great digesters, filled with more powerful agents than the system can give. They go back into the blood after the cause of indigestion, thereby increasing the ability of nature to take care of digestion without exhausting other organs.

High liver men need feel no considerable hardship if they eat one of these little tablets after each meal. It is a splendid gift to the stomach and a good habit to form. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets sell for 50 cents per package at every drug store.

Send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address V. A. Stuart Company, 159 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

SAYS NEAR BEER WAS SHOT DOWN IS NOT SO BAD ON THE STREET

Dr. Ellis Says That Many People Buy It Rather Than Whisky. Son of Late Congressman Moody Shot New York Traveling Man.

Columbus, Ga., November 12.—(Special.)—Speaking in Columbus tonight, at the invitation of the local Anti-Saloon League, Dr. T. D. Ellis, of Macon, state president of the league, said that, in his opinion, the prohibition law is the best constructive and constructive law on the statute books of Georgia.

He said that wonders had been accomplished over the state as a whole in reducing drunkenness and crime, and that the record of the ten months since the law has been in existence has surpassed his anticipations. He expressed the opinion that near beer was not such a bad thing as many people supposed, as a great many people buy it instead of sending off for whisky.

IN THE COURTS

Judge Pendleton yesterday morning granted a temporary restraining order against the superior court praying to be incorporated under the style of E. W. Burkholder, who claimed that he was to have managed the business for half of the profits. He stated that the company had refused to do this and had notified other parties that he was no longer connected with the company. He asked that they be restrained from paying out any further money.

Judge Pendleton yesterday morning granted the order allowing the English-Hitchcock Company to change its name to the English Heating Company.

D. E. Moorefield, G. W. Bishop, J. H. Walton, E. S. Wilson and W. J. Hightower yesterday filed petition with the clerk of the superior court praying to be incorporated under the style of the Southern Fraternal Life Association. They propose to conduct a fraternal life association with no capital stock. W. Carroll Lattimer represented the petitioners.

John D. Hendrix, Martin May and Henry Seneal yesterday filed a petition with the clerk of the superior court praying to be incorporated under the style of the Hendrix-May Refrigerator Company with a capital stock of $15,000 and the privilege of increasing the same to not exceeding $50,000. The purpose was to engage in the manufacture and sale of refrigerators and beer coolers. Attorney T. B. Blackburn represented the petitioners.

Ordinary Wilkinson yesterday removed S. A. Akers as administrator of the estate of William T. Akers and appointed in his stead Cortland S. Wien. The removal was made as a result of the complaint of Mrs. Belle Akers, who claimed that Mr. Akers had wrongfully converted the estate's money without proper security being given or a report made to the ordinary as required by law.

CLAIMING THAT AN UNKNOWN PERSON had knocked against him and caused a discharge of his pistol, which sent a bullet into his leg, Isaac McFadden, a young man who resides at 45 Ira street, sought the attention of Dr. H. R. Donaldson, of 298 East Pine street, Monday night at 9 o'clock. His wound was dressed and he was sent to his home. The bullet entered the calf just below the knee and ran downward nearly to the foot. The accident happened at the corner of Trinity and Whitehall, and, according to the statement of McFadden, was brought about when some one ran against him. A pistol he carried was in his overcoat pocket and some unaccountable manner it was discharged.

ADA GORMAN'S HUSBAND

ON TRIAL AS DESERTER

Man Who Eloped With Late Senator's Daughter Accused of Deserting Navy.

Philadelphia, Pa., November 12.—Based on his defense on the pleading that he was guilty of being absent without leave, but not guilty of "desertion" from the United States navy, as charged by the government, Charles J. Magness, who married Miss Ada Gorman, daughter of the late Senator Gorman, of Maryland, was tried before a court-martial at the Philadelphia navy yard today. The government, after proving that Magness did not report after the expiration of a leave of absence, which had been granted him, rested its case. Magness was the chief witness in his own behalf, and he admitted that he overstayed his leave of absence, but he asserted that he had no idea of deserting. In his testimony he said that he had thought of engaging in business in Louisville, and that the money he had in his possession when arrested had been given him by his wife.

CHARGED WITH ROBBERY.

White Men Arrested for Breaking Into Slot Meter.

Charged with robbing a gas slot meter, C. O. Lampkin and C. A. Edge, two young white men, were arrested early last night at their boarding house at 110 Walton street, by Officers Barfield and Lloyd.

The young men were seen working with the meters in the hall by a servant, who gave the alarm. Lampkin and Edge ran into their room, jumped into bed with their clothes on. When the officers arrived they found the young men apparently fast asleep and snoring loudly. The two policemen had them sent to the police station, where, in default of $50.75 placed upon each as collateral, they were placed behind the bars. Their trial will take place today.

Opposed to Annexation.

Macon, Ga., November 12.—(Special.)—While the rapid registration for the election to decide upon the annexation of a large section of Venezuela is going on at the county court house, strong opposition to the movement has been developed in a few cases, and it is now certain that the fight will be made against the coming in. It is generally believed, however, that there will be no difficulty experienced on the day of the election, November 21, when the final decision will be reached.

THE A. M. E. CONFERENCE.

South Georgia Colored Methodist Gather at Arlington.

Arlington, Ga., November 12.—(Special.)—Bishop C. S. Smith called the Southwest Georgia conference to order today at 9 a. m. at St. Paul's African Methodist Episcopal church.

At the opening exercises were some impressive references were made to those who had died during the year.

This is the largest of the five conferences in the state. It has eight presiding elder districts, over 200 preachers and 22,000 members. It operates a high school at Cuthbert in connection with Morris Brown college at Atlanta.

The annual sermon was preached by Rev. J. W. Mitchell, of Americus, Ga. The missionary sermon by Rev. J. T. Barr, presiding elder, was preached tonight.

The preachers representing the following districts will make their reports: Columbus, Talbotton, Thomasville, Bainbridge, Americus, Cuthbert, Blakely and Albany. It is indicated that these reports will show a large increase of members and finances over last year.

The remarks of Bishop Smith elicited the careful attention of the conference from the beginning. Among other things, he said:

"Not only are we to care for the sheep, but the lambs; our children must be trained in all that tends to make them correct in their habits, industrious, obedient, truthful, respectful of the holy Sabbath and observant of everything which may be necessary to have them grow up useful and respectable."

A large number of visitors are here from all over the state.

4TH NAT. STOCK
SOLD FOR $205

Inman Estate Holdings Sold
Court Order Set Price
at $200.

One hundred shares of the Fourth National Bank stock at $204 to $205 a share is the latest record in Atlanta bank stock sales. This represents the holdings in this bank by the Walker P. Inman estate, which Judge John T. Pendleton, of the Fulton county superior court, signed an order allowing its sale providing that the stock should bring to the receiver, Mrs. James R. Gray and Mrs. Morris Brandon, over $200 a share.

The sale of this stock was made through the attorneys for the receivers, Ross & Brandon, and was placed in the hands of various purchasers through the officers of the Fourth National Bank.

Considering the fact that the value of this stock at issuance was $100 a share the strength of this financial institution is appreciated, and when it is noted the stock brings $4 to $5 a share more than the court places as a minimum value, the kindly offices of the attorneys for the receivers is appreciated.

REV. J. R. MCLESKEY DEAD.

Prominent Methodist Minister Dies at Washington.

Washington, Ga., November 12.—(Special.)—After an extended illness of more than a year, Rev. J. R. McCleskey died at the Methodist parsonage in this city this morning at 11:20. He was one of the oldest and most prominent ministers of the north Georgia conference, and had been appointed to the parsonage of the Little River circuit at the last annual conference. He has never been well since undertaking the work of this circuit.

Mr. McCleskey was 63 years old, and survived by his wife and five children. They are J. R. McCleskey, Jr., of Mississippi; Lucian McCleskey, of Atlanta; D. R. McCleskey, of Texas; Mrs. Charles I. Smith, of Washington; and Miss Margaret McCleskey, of Washington. The funeral will occur Friday afternoon at 3:30 in the city cemetery. He joined the Methodist ministry in 1870, and was a graduate of the University of Georgia.

STILL DRINKING IN "DRY" STATES

So the Evidence at the Tariff Hearing Indicates.

LIQUOR MEN ARE SATISFIED

They Say Prohibition Wave Has Had Little Influence on Consumption, and That Present Tariff Suits Them—Three Drinks and Out.

Washington, November 12.—The wave of prohibition, which, it is said, has spread over the country, apparently has had little influence on the consumption of alcoholic liquors and spirituous drinks, according to evidence brought out at today's hearing on the proposed tariff revision before the house committee on ways and means. It was apparent, too, that the liquor interests are, on the whole, well satisfied with the present tariff on spirits, wines and other beverages, as the wine growers and importers were practically the only interests represented at today's hearing.

Sharp Colloquy.

The morning session was enlivened by a sharp but good-natured colloquy between Percy T. Morgan, representing the wine-growing interests of California, and Representative Boutwell, of Illinois. Mr. Morgan was telling the committee why the regulations of the Dingley tariff covering the importation of still wines should also apply to those wines imported from countries with which the United States has reciprocity treaties. Answering Mr. Boutwell, Mr. Morgan said:

"My contention is that wines can be imported under the present reciprocity arrangements up to 24 per cent, which is 48 proof, while the whiskey your self drink is only 85 proof."

"The whiskey I drink is not any proof," was Mr. Boutwell's quick rejoinder. "I never take any."

Mr. Morgan claimed that, under the present reciprocity treaties with the principal wine-producing countries, alcohol diluted with wine could be imported instead of wine diluted with alcohol.

Champ Clark, prominently spoken of as the successor of John Sharp Williams as minority leader on the floor of the house, was present for the first time at the hearings as a member of the committee.

Three Drinks and Out.

W. A. Hildreth, of New York, a champagne expert, declared that the cost of making American wines was much greater than that of producing French wines and champagnes. He was heard by the committee that Americans only pay for the French labels. When Mr. Clark remarked: "There are not a thousand men in the United States who, after they have had three drinks, can tell what they are drinking."

L. J. Vance, of New York, secretary of the American Wine Growers' Association, declared that the reciprocity treaty that gave the French the right to export their wines to the United States at a reduction of 52 per cent in the duty, and that these importers use the duty for the purpose of advertising and keeping a trade which the American winemakers possibly could get if they had a similar amount of duty for that purpose.

He also asked for an increase of the duties on mineral waters to meet the duty on foreign countries.

C. H. King and John H. Wheeler, of New York, argued for a decrease in the duty on beer and stout, and declared that, as a result, imported ale and stout would be cheaper to the consumer. Tomorrow the committee will take up the schedule on tobacco and manufacture of tobacco.

Schedule of Hearings.

The tariff hearings will be continued daily until December 4, the Friday before the opening of congress. It is the desire of the committee to hear from all citizens and others interested before the regular sessions of the house begin. Those desiring to be heard are asked to send in their names and the names of the company or commodity he represents.

The committee has shown a preference for briefs as opposed to oral testimony. The program of the hearings follows: Friday, November 13, on Schedule F—Tobacco, and manufactures of.

Monday, November 16, on Schedule E—Sugar, molasses, and manufactures of.

Wednesday, November 18, on Schedule G—Agricultural products and provisions.

Friday, November 20, on Schedule D—Wood, and manufactures of.

Saturday, November 21, on Schedule M—Pulp, paper, and book.

Monday, November 23, on Schedule B—Earthenware, and glassware.

Wednesday, November 25, on Schedule C—Metals, and manufactures of.

Saturday, November 28, on Schedule N—Sundries.

Monday, November 30, on Schedule J—Flax, hemp, and jute, and manufactures of.

Tuesday, December 1, on Schedule I—Cotton manufactures, and on.

Tuesday, December 1, on Schedule L—Silks and silk goods.

Wednesday, December 2, on Schedule K—Wool, and manufactures of.

Friday, December 4, on sections 3-34, and miscellaneous matters.

TENNESSEE EX-SENATOR WHO WAS SLAIN AND HIS HOME NEAR SCENE OF TRAGEDY

The killing of Ex-Senator Edward W. Carmack, of Tennessee, by Robin Cooper at Nashville resulted from the recent democratic gubernatorial primary, in which Carmack was defeated. Ill feeling had existed between Carmack and Colonel Duncan B. Cooper, father of Robin Cooper, because the Coopers were supporters of Governor Patterson. Criticisms directed at Colonel Cooper in The Tennessean, Mr. Carmack's newspaper, prompted the shooting. Mr. Carmack had served in both branches of congress, and during his senatorial career from 1901 to 1907 he made many brilliant speeches attacking the administration. He led the democratic senators in the debates on the Philippine tariff question, the Brownsville affair and in the discussion of the Panama revolution. In early life he was a protégé of Colonel Cooper, and for many years they were fast friends.

POSTAL DEFICIT

Shortage Is Largest in History of Postal Department.

Washington, November 12.—Postmaster General Meyer announced today that the postal deficit for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1908, amounted to $16,910,279. The receipts were $191,478,633 (being $7,893,657 greater than the previous year), and the expenditures $208,388,912. The deficit is the largest in the history of the postoffice department. An analysis of the figures shows that $2,981,321 represents the advance in the rate of compensation authorized by congress for employees of the railway mail service, rural delivery service, city delivery service, and assistant postmasters and clerks in postoffices. The normal increase in the revenue for several years was about 9 per cent, and in 1908, 4.29 per cent, the falling off in the rate of growth being due to the financial depression.

The postmaster general said that in his annual report he would call the attention of congress to the fact that he is firmly convinced that the establishment of a special local parcel post route to rural routes would tend to wipe out the postal deficit, and would finally make the rural delivery self-sustaining, besides being of convenience to the farmer and a boon to the retail country merchant. There is now in operation more than 39,000 rural routes, he said, "serving a population of about 18,000,000 people, and should an average of fifty-five pounds of merchandise be carried by the rural carrier on each trip throughout the year, it is estimated that $15,000,000 would be realized. The rate would be 5 cents for the first pound and 2 cents for each additional pound up to eleven pounds, the maximum weight of a package. With the exception of a small percentage paid to postmasters of the fourth class for increased cancellations, he said, all revenue from this parcel post would be clear gain, as there would be no railroad transportation whatever, the service being confined to packages mailed by bona-fide merchants and patrons of the rural routes.

"I feel," continues Mr. Meyer, "that from an administrative viewpoint, it is most desirable that such legislation be enacted."

The deficit includes losses such as burglaries at postoffices, etc., not embraced in the expenditures account.

ELECTRICITY MOVED HER.

Current Turned on Girl in Order to Waken Her.

Lowell, Mass., November 12.—Five experienced practitioners gathered at the bedside of Luciana Plette, the French-Canadian girl who has been asleep for thirteen days, and applied electricity in the hope of waking her. The physicians were satisfied the girl's case is not cataplexy, but hysteria, and that her own obstinacy keeps her asleep. The doctors applied electricity to her hands and feet. She gave unmistakable evidence of being conscious of what was being done to her, as she offered strenuous resistance to the doctors' work.

When one of the doctors said threateningly that they would apply electricity for the third time, with much stronger current, telling a colleague at the same time to take hold of her foot to apply the apparatus to it, the girl quickly drew it under the bed clothes.

RATES TO SOUTH

ARE UNDER FIRE

Chicago Merchants Will Ask for Revision of the Freight Schedules.

Chicago, November 12.—The interstate commerce commission is to be asked by Chicago merchants to revise the freight rate schedules between Chicago and Chattanooga and points south. At the hearing before the commission next Monday on the complaint of the Chicago Association of Commerce against the Pennsylvania, the Southern, the Queen and Crescent and other roads, Chicago merchants will be placed on the stand to show that the present rates to Chattanooga are higher than from eastern cities from which the distance is much greater. The first-class rate from Chicago to Chattanooga is 141 cents per 100 pounds for a distance of 635 miles. The rate to New York, 847 miles; Boston, 1,060; Worcester, 1,025; and even to Portland, Me., a distance of 1,173 miles, is only 105 cents.

The Receivers and Shippers' Association of Cincinnati has filed a similar complaint against the rate charged from that city, and both cases will be heard together on Monday.

The complaints allege that these discriminatory rates have been filed by a conspiracy through what is known as the Southern Railway and Steamship Association agreement, which is said to have been condemned by the interstate commerce commission. It is also stated that the existing rates were once declared illegal by the commission, but, as the commission at that time, before the passage of the Hepburn act, had no power to change the rates, they never were lowered.

Lace Sale

"Amazing" Would Probably be the Best Adjective in the List to Describe these Values. None to be sold before Nine O'clock This Morning.

'Twas mighty good advice that canny Scotch mother gave her son, a young minister, as he started out after the fashion of youth, to set the world afire with his eloquence:

"Sandy, my son," said she, "never begin till ye ha' somethin' to say: and when ye ha' done, stop."

Good advice, particularly for advertisers. Here goes to follow it, for we surely "ha' somethin' to say" when it comes to a Lace Sale the like of this one. We begin:

4 to 6 inch Lace Bands, cream and white. Most of them real hand-run Laces. Some are real French and Irish crochet. Edges and bands to match. Also some real Braid and Venise Laces. These laces are all new and the patterns, styles, effects are passing beautiful. They are regularly worth

SILK, LACE and NET WAISTS

SPECIAL SALE of Higher-Priced Models in Net and Lace Today . . } $3.50

This Is a Waist Department That You'll Find Complete

The C.-J.-DuB. Waist department is as complete as resource and skill can make it.

There's no need for a woman to go out of this store with her waist-wants unsupplied. True, she might be a person of abnormal or bizarre taste who couldn't be suited anywhere. New York couldn't please her--London--anywhere.

Doubtless we'd miss it on that sort of shopper.

But we honestly believe we can meet the needs, the tastes, the purses, the requirements of all normal femininity, when it comes to the matter of Waists.

There's the simple morning blouse of Linen or Madras, plainly tailored. From less than a dollar up to ten or twelve run their prices.

The tailored Silk Blouse! Simplicity of line and goodness of material prevail. Colors appropriate for street shopping and church wear. Lots of good service in the good silk blouse. Five dollars buys a beauty of a model here.

Then they grow a thought more dressy. A little touch on the collar--a tie--a jabot--a trick at the sleeve-bottom.

And there you are with your semi-dressy blouse.

Then the really dressy ones!

Chiffons, Laces, Nets, Satins, Crochet--a double score of styles, each distinguished for some particular little grace of design or adornment.

The colors are dreams--Copenhagen, rose, gray, green, paon, taupe, lavender, navy, brown, champagne. And always, of course, cream, ecru, white and black.

Persian Chiffons, cleverly fashioned with touches of stately black satin and lacy, lovely little tuckers. Pale, soft, rich Messalines, all lace-decked and delicate. Royal black laces and nets and embroidered Chiffons--charming.

Up to twenty-two fifty they range in price.

These Waists Skecht from Models in Stock. We have Dozens of Other Styles, Cheaper, Dearer

Style 1.

This comes in navy, gray and black taffetas. Fine tuck yoke effect with shaped straps, button-trimmed.

Its neatness is perhaps its greatest charm. A sensible, smartly plain waist.

$7.50

Style 2.

This is the Waist they're daft about in the east just now.

Comes in Messaline--Rose, blue and black. Strait lines of tiny tucks alternating with wider ones are the only trimming.

$8.75

Style 3.

This is a Taffeta Waist, tuck yoke, with self-fold trimming, long sleeves.

It comes in navy, wine, gray, green and black. It is trim and tidy. Excellent for wear with the tailored suit.

$5.00

Style 4.

Embroidered net with hand-made yoke of lace. Fancy shirred sleeve.

It comes in cream; also cream with different colored dots.

$5.00

Style 5.

This is a Net Waist of fetching style. The touch of braiding is very pretty, as are the latticed collar and the dainty jabot. In lavender, green, Copenhagen, rose and gray.

$5.00

Style 6.

This is a Blouse of Baby Irish Lace. The richness of the lace lends itself delightfully to the simple style of the waist. Very effective.

FIGHT ON CHAMBERLAIN.

Effort Made to Nullify His Popular Renomination for Senator.

Portland, Ore., November 12.--Opponents of "Statement No. 1" will today take their first step in the effort to nullify the popular nomination of George E. Chamberlain for United States senator.

This is the circulation of petitions for signatures by the electorate of the state, asking the members of the legislature who signed "Statement No. 1" to support a republican for United States senator. It is the view of the opponents of the statement that, if a majority of the voters of the state sign the petition, it will act as a release to the signers of "Statement No. 1."

RIVER IMPROVEMENT.

Prospect Bright for All-Year Navigation of the Tennessee.

Huntsville, Ala., November 12.--In calling the annual convention of the Tennessee River Improvement Association to order Thursday, President John A. Patton stated that the prospects are bright for all the year round navigation of the river in the near future. The convention is being held in the Elk theater. There are several prominent men in attendance, among them being Senator Bankhead, of Alabama; Congressman Richardson, of Alabama; Congressman Humphreys, of Mississippi; and S. E. Thompson, of the national rivers and harbors congress.

CRAIG KILLED BY WOMAN.

She Claims That He Had Made an Insulting Proposal.

Memphis, Tenn., November 12.--Local police officials were apprised in rather an unusual manner early today of the killing last night in a suburb of S. P. Craig, a mill employee, when Mrs. A. W. Bonds appeared at central police headquarters and announced excitedly that she had shot and killed the man, asserting that he had made an insulting proposal. After relating her story, the woman accompanied officers to the scene, a vacant field, where the body was found, as indicated. Mrs. Bonds asserts that because of a previous insult, her husband had threatened to kill Craig if he did not leave the city, and it was to warn him that she went to his place of employment late yesterday. The shooting occurred, Mrs. Bonds declared, when the man attempted to follow her to her home, renewing the proposal.

ARE INVESTIGATING WRECK.

Engineer and Conductor of Train Are Arrested.

New Orleans, November 12.--As a result of the collision which yesterday cost the lives of eight persons and the serious wounding of a score of others at Little Woods station, on the New Orleans and Northeastern railroad, two men have already been arrested and a thorough investigation is being made into the causes of the wreck, as well as the delay in sending a relief train from New Orleans. These two men are Wayne A. Blackburn and A. B. Keys, engineer and conductor, respectively, of the Great Northern express, which telegraphed the New Orleans and Northeastern local. They were held some time by the police, but were released during the night after each had arranged for a $10,000 bail bond. The arrest of Blackburn and Keys was not taken as an indication that the responsibility for the wreck rested solely with them. It was announced that the matter of whether the Great Northern crew or the Northeastern crew was responsible still remained a matter of doubt, but that Keys and Blackburn's connection with the train which did the damage compelled such action.

The resolutions also call upon all the camps of veterans in the state to exert their influence to prevent any of their members from selling intoxicants.

NEGRO KILLED AT WOODLAND.

Woodland, Ga., November 12.--(Special.)--In a drunken row near here Monday night, Orrie Hardnett, a negro, struck Big Chambliss, another negro, on the head with a rock, killing him almost instantly. The Hardnett negro was arrested by Sheriff McDaniel and placed in jail in Talbotton.

EX-QUEEN GOING TO WASHINGTON.

Honolulu, November 12.--Former Queen Lilioukalani has determined to go to Washington, D. C., to personally urge the recognition of her claims to the lands in the Hawaiian group which were formerly held by the crown. A mortgage deed for $70,000 was placed on record today by former Queen Lilioukalani, the deed being executed in favor of Claus Spreckels and W. G. Irwin.

Chicago, November 12.--With official figures from only three equities missing, the returns at the secretary of state's office at Springfield indicate that the proposition to issue $20,000,000 in bonds for the construction of a deep waterway won by a majority of approximately 100,000 of the total vote cast.

Washington, November 12.--Congressman John W. Weeks, of Boston, chairman of the subcommittee on banking laws of the congressional joint currency commission, talked with the president today. He expressed the opinion when leaving the white house that there would be no currency legislation passed at the coming session of congress, but said it was not unlikely that a bill changing the banking laws would be introduced.

Lard Is An Animal Product—Cottolene Is a Vegetable Product

The source of lard is unclean and the product is often unhealthy. The source of Cottolene is absolutely clean and wholesome and the product is as healthful as olive oil.

Cottolene comes from the cotton fields of the Sunny South; it is a product of Nature, refined by our exclusive process. Lard comes from the pig-sty and is simply indigestible hog fat.

Cottolene makes food that any stomach can digest, while lard is the cause of nine-tenths of all indigestion.

Cottolene is the best frying and shortening medium made today. Wherever exhibited in competition with any and all other cooking fats, it has always been granted Highest Awards.

COTTOLENE Is Guaranteed Your grocer is hereby authorized to refund your money in case you are not pleased, after having given Cottolene a fair test.

Never Sold in Bulk Cottolene is packed in pails with an airtight top to keep it clean, fresh and wholesome, and prevent it from catching dust and absorbing disagreeable odors, such as fish, oil, etc.

THE WEATHER; LOOK FOR ICE

Atlanta to Have Her First Touch of Real Winter.

Lower temperature and heavy frost, with fair weather, was the forecast for Friday, issued Thursday by the local weather bureau.

The "heavy frost" was expected to prove a freeze, and that there would be ice all over the city was the general expectation for the early risers this morning.

Those who did not take timely warning and cut off their water pipes last night will probably have an ocular demonstration of the fact that it was cold last night.

The temperature never got higher than the fifties during the day, and early in the afternoon it began to sink in anticipation of the biting cold throughout the city around the hour of midnight. Men who had not worn overcoats this winter began to shiver and wonder if they had caught cold. The street cars felt most comfortable with the chill air shut out, and wending their way homeward, all Atlanta said: "Winter has come."

"Me for cold weather," said the Gopher. "In the summer I get hot and can't get cool, but in the winter I get cold and very easily get warm again. Now I have a friend, 'Henry,' who has had a dome that will click as a tin roof for the lack of hair covering."

"Well, he suffered on the roof garden, most terribly, but now what do you think? This recent warm spell has caused a hair to sprout right on the top of his thought factory, and it looks like he is going to grow a second crop."

"You know he is the fellow who tried painting a rabbit on his head in the hope that it would be taken for a hare."

"That was yabs and yabs and yabs again. If he is successful, you will soon see him riding down town in his suit minus a hat and plus a smile that won't come off."

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED.

Chamber of Commerce of Augusta Names Officials.

Augusta, Ga., November 12.—(Special.) The stockholders of the chamber of commerce met tonight in annual session and elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: President, L. C. Hays; first vice president, Howard H. Stafford; second vice president, Maurice Walton; treasurer, J. P. Armstrong. A board of directors was named by a special committee appointed for that purpose. An agenda was suspended, providing for a quarterly meeting of the subscribers, was adopted. The organization raised $3,600 for expenses of the spring music festival in April, and guaranteed the balance of the money necessary.

At a subsequent meeting the directors will elect a secretary.

Death of Mrs. W. H. Mansfield.

Macon, Ga., November 12.—(Special.) Mrs. W. H. Mansfield, wife of one of the best known business men in Macon, died this morning at the family residence on Orange street. Death came suddenly. She arose and dressed this morning and lay in bed with her head on a pillow. When she went to her room she soon lapsed into unconsciousness and was dead in a short time. She is survived by a husband and six children—Mrs. R. J. Carr, Mrs. A. M. Rogers and Calder Mansfield, all of Macon, and Clarence Mansfield, of St. Louis; Mrs. G. B. Matthews, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Charles Yager living in California. The funeral will occur tomorrow morning at the residence.

Kidney Ailment

I want every person who suffers with the form of kidney ailment, no matter how many remedies they have tried, to know that there is hope. I have cured many cases of this terrible disease. My remedy is a simple, natural, and safe. You will be astonished to see how quickly it relieves all the back pains and aches caused by the kidneys. You will be surprised to see how quickly it relieves the terrible pain in the feet and legs, also puffiness under the feet. After taking a few doses of this remedy, you will be able to see the color returning to your cheeks and feel the thrill of vigor and good cheer. If your urine is thick or milky, if it is pale and foamy, if it contains sediments or brickdust, if it is highly colored or has an offensive smell, you are suffering from kidney trouble. It is taking this remedy until all symptoms disappear. We believe this remedy has cured more serious kidney ailments than all the kidney medicines that have been compounded. Professor Munyon believes that the terrible death rate from Bright's Disease and Diabetes is unnecessary and will be greatly reduced by this remedy. Go at once to your druggist and purchase a bottle of Munyon's Kidney Remedy. If it fails to give satisfaction I will return your money. Munyon. For sale by all druggists. Price 25c.

AUGUSTA LADY FATALY HURT

Horse Took Fright and She Was Thrown Violently to the Curbstone.

Augusta, Ga., November 12.—(Special.) Mrs. M. W. Phillips, aged about 60 years, was fatally hurt in a runaway accident on Woodlawn avenue this afternoon just before dusk. She was driving alone in an open buggy, when the horse, a large and powerful animal, took fright at the breaking of a shaft.

Mrs. Phillips was thrown violently to the curbstone, her skull being crushed by the blow, and up to a late hour had not regained consciousness. Her immediate family comprise a husband and two children.

Fire Destroyed Residence.

Macon, Ga., November 12.—(Special.) Within the brief space of ten minutes fire destroyed the two-story residence of Mrs. W. A. Wyllie at 745 Pine street this morning and three families were rendered homeless with a large portion of their household goods destroyed. The families were those of T. Hatfield, W. B. Birrick and F. M. Drenem. The loss was partially covered by insurance. The fire was held under control when the fire department arrived, but the flames were too well under headway to save the residence.

matter in Miss Watson's hands only recently, but she has already accomplished much toward making public the proposed plan of issuing cotton certificates.

Mr. Fullwood and Miss Watson expect to go direct to Washington as soon as the convention here adjourns in connection with this work.

Miss Watson has made friends on all sides since her arrival, her charming manner and attractive looks making her a conspicuous figure at the convention.

BIG SANTA CLAUS KITE

USED BY M'CLURE'S STORE

Crowds of shoppers and hosts of children were yesterday attracted by McClure's Ten-Cent Co.'s "dancing Santa Claus," a novelty which has never before been seen in Atlanta.

Santa Claus, dressed in his red suit trimmed in fur, and wearing a pointed cap and boots, and his proverbial white whiskers, was suspended from the string of a large kite, and danced about over the top of the adjacent buildings in such a life-like manner as to bring exclamations of delight from the spectators below.

The man flying the kite was stationed on the top of the Bass building, adjoining the McClure Ten-Cent Co., and the kite was over the court house. The dummy, which weighs only a few pounds, was tied to the strings so that it could be in plain view to the spectators.

When the wind drives the kite about, Santa Claus is made to dance about in a manner apparently independent of the kite's motion. Neither the operator nor the kite are easily seen by the spectators below, the string of a large kite is used.

An ordinary eddy kite is used in a tight wind, as was the case of this occasion, but when a strong wind is blowing, the box kite is necessary for the best result. When a very strong wind blows, both kites are used. If the wind is right, the management will make Santa Claus dance each day from 10 to 12 o'clock in the morning and from 2 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Seismic Shocks in Belgium.

Spa, Belgium, November 12.—A violent earthquake of three-second's duration occurred here at 5:30 this morning. The people of Spa were thrown into a panic and rushed wildly from their houses into the street. There were no casualties. The earthquake was accompanied by a loud roaring sound. The shock was felt also at Namur. The people there were badly frightened, but no damage was done.

LAWRENCEVILLE TO HAVE RAILROAD SERVICE NEEDED

Chairman McLendon Assures City Attorney Perry New Schedule Will Be Ordered if Necessary.

If the present schedules of the Seaboard Air Line railway do not afford the citizens of Lawrenceville the full and adequate service to which they are entitled, the railroad commission of Georgia will compel the operation of an additional schedule in order to afford this service.

This was the agreement reached as the result of a conference yesterday morning between Chairman McLendon, of the commission, and City Attorney J. A. Perry, of Lawrenceville, representing the people of that city.

Mr. Perry called upon the chairman of the commission as the result of a statement published in yesterday's Constitution in which Chairman McLendon had criticized the course followed by the citizens of Lawrenceville in endeavoring to secure better railroad facilities.

Mr. McLendon expressed surprise that any complaint had been made to the commission, when so much was being said about the matter in the newspapers. Mr. Perry declared a member of the commission had stated thirty days ago to a party vitally interested in the subject of better schedules for Lawrenceville, that the commission had no authority in the matter, as the Seaboard was in the hands of receivers. For this reason the people had resorted to other means to gain their point.

Mr. Perry further complaint was lodged with the commission by Mr. Perry that last year the commission had allowed the Seaboard to discontinue a short train from Athens to Atlanta and return. It was his impression that this was done without opportunity being given the patrons of the road to be heard. He said the effect of this was to leave the people along the line in a bad predicament. This was further emphasized by the fact that for the past fifty days the vestibuled trains of the Seaboard did not stop at Lawrenceville.

He quoted one instance in which an elderly gentleman and his daughter were forced to leave Loganville in the afternoon in order to reach Atlanta the next morning, when the entire distance between the two points could be covered by a buggy in four hours. He complained that trains Nos. 32 and 33 do not now stop at Lawrenceville.

Mr. McLendon assured Mr. Perry that as soon as the complaints came to his attention unofficially through clippings from a Lawrenceville newspaper, he had written Mr. Garrett, of the Seaboard, in reference to the matter.

He said the commission did have the authority to correct the evil complained of—as full authority as though the road were not in the hands of receivers.

"No member of the railroad commission constitutes the railroad commission of Georgia," said the chairman. He promised that upon receipt of Mr. Garrett's reply, unless the trouble complained of was remedied, the commission would order a public hearing of the case, at which the people of Lawrenceville would be invited to send representatives.

This was agreeable to Mr. Perry, and he assured the chairman that the people of Lawrenceville would welcome the aid of the commission in taking up the question.

Ownership of Handolph-Macon.

Norfolk, Va., November 12.—The Virginia Methodist Episcopal conference today adopted a resolution presented by Rev. James Cannon, Jr., declaring the Handolph-Macon system of colleges and schools to be morally and legally the property of the conference, calling on the trustees to A. A. declare, demanding that they join with a conference committee to secure a charter amendment to this effect, and providing in case of refusal for a board of appointing of diva.

PURE WATER FOR MANILA AT AN OUTLAY OF $7,000,000

New System Completed and the Water Turned Into City Mains.

Manila, November 12.—Manila's new water system, constructed during a period of three years, at an outlay of $7,000,000, is completed. The water was let loose this afternoon at the source of supply in the Marquina valley, and sent coursing on its twenty-mile journey to the city.

In its twenty-mile journey from the higher altitudes the water is carried part of the distance through a steel pipe line, and the remainder of the way in a concrete conduit. Owing to the difficulties of construction, the conduit in some places crosses the streams on high bridges and in other localities tunnels beneath mountain ridges for considerable distance.

The assurance of a supply of pure water for Manila is regarded as one of the greatest improvements made by the Americans during their occupancy of the Philippine Islands.

The new system was built under the direction of Major J. C. Case, of Oregon, the constructing engineer.

MASS MEETING AT ROME.

Municipal Ownership League Will Be Formed.

Rome, Ga., November 12.—(Special.)—A mass meeting of citizens has been called for tomorrow evening at the court house for the purpose of organizing a municipal ownership league. More new battleships, but just hear Hobson saying, "What's the use?"

Taft will find a solid south in its old-fashioned, unfrazzled hospitality.

The fair convention delegates have bouquets to spare for the weather man.

In politics Cuba follows suit—claims the tariff, and it may get the usual knock-out blows.

Of course, they're in a row over the tariff, and it may get the usual knock-out blows.

Roosevelt can't beat Taft in a golf game. But give him time. He's fifty years young, yet.

Uncle Sam will not think propriety is a fact until he hears that Standard Oil fine jingling his way.

It's time for the prosperous Maryland Mint Julep Association to "tip the wink" to the country.

The critics of Emperor William are demonstrating their ability to out-talk him every day in the week.

Taft will not have to work overtime selecting a cabinet. His friends are doing that for him every day.

As Hearst reads the left-over letters before a blazing fire, he probably wonders why Archibald didn't burn them.

If Taft finds any big sticks lying around in the white house they'll be too frazzled to do duty in golf games.

Another pleasant holiday reflection: Campaign cigars for which there was no demand will make fine presents for father.

Chancellor Day had to express himself on "The Situation." He never will get off and give the situation a chance.

Perhaps Mrs. Guinness is revisiting this world to protest against the different ways in which they spell her name.

Charles Dana Gibson will return to pen and ink sketches. Evidently, the lord of oil he dealt in didn't declare dividends.

It is time for King Edward to act the part of good uncle to his great German nephew and tell him how to "lay low."

If Son-in-Law Nick speaks for Editor Roosevelt he may confine himself to the simple statement—"This is the editor's busy day."

The kings who succeed in talking themselves out of business may please the revolutionists who can't afford the dynamite.

The airship business in Europe is causing kings to take such high-handed methods their subjects are calling them down.

As an author Mr. Carnegie does not hold the reader long. The short spelling in his book enables you to get to the end in no time.

We may now look forward to the Christmas shopping campaign; and Providence make us thankful for what we are about to receive!

The Washington Herald says John D. Rockefeller has "gone to work," but he won't get much exercise as he tends to raise the price of oil.

They failed to marry off the duke of Abruzzi, they talked the campaign out of business, but—glory be! they've resurrected the ghostly Mrs. Guinness under a scare head.

SUPPRESSION OF NIGHT RIDING.

If the resolutions adopted by the two conventions of cotton growers held this week, one at Memphis and the other that of the Farmers' Union at New Orleans, mean anything, there is ample assurance that the farmers throughout the south will afford the responsible state authorities every possible encouragement and assistance within their power toward suppressing the night-riding menace.

While night riding was only an incident of conventions called to take steps looking to keeping up the price of cotton, circumstances made it an important and essential incident—one which it was impossible to ignore.

The Farmers' Union convention at New Orleans unanimously enacted emphatic resolutions condemning this form of lawlessness and promising all possible assistance to the authorities in crushing it out.

The Memphis convention condemned it in equally strong terms and called upon state authorities to employ every possible means in its elimination.

The representative and law-abiding producers of the south are thus a unit in the determination that night riding shall not thrive or spread.

They could not consistently or in furtherance of their own interests have taken any other view.

The action of these two conventions should prove a spur to the activities of the constituted authorities wherever this form of lawlessness shows its head.

The south must not and shall not suffer through the unchecked depredations of outlaw, rifle-raff bands.

The night riders must be taken by the throat.

FREEDOM OF SPEECH IN GERMANY.

The most remarkable thing about the new famous interview on foreign affairs which Emperor William gave for publication in The London Daily Telegraph is not the indiscretion of the "infallible" ruler, but the extent to which unchecked criticism and condemnation of it is permitted throughout the German empire.

The insolent cartoons in the German press, the open and emphatic charges of violation of his constitutional authority, the public assertion from a private citizen that the emperor ought to abdicate and make way for an abler and more careful ruler, the open declaration in the reichstag that the kaiser should remain in Berlin attending to his business, instead of watching airship ascensions at Friedrichshafen—all these and more constitute the wonder of it, when we contemplate the German monarch upon the pedestal whereon, though self-erected, we have been accustomed to view him as but a short degree or two below divinity.

We had expected to see half a dozen or more editors and as many cartoonists, a few daring socialist orators and a minority of the German parliament landed in jail for a season; but the law of lese majeste seems suddenly to have become a dead letter.

About the only explanation offered is that the government has been too stunned to act, or, in other words, the emperor and Chancellor von Buelow, who stands as a sort of buffer for the punishment aimed at his imperial master, realize that they have made a mistake and are manfully accepting the consequences while seeking diplomatically to palliate as much as possible the effects of it.

But it is marvelous to note the freedom of political criticism reaching to the throne itself, which a few years ago would have landed the utterers of it in prison. In fact, it seems less than two years ago that an indiscreet editor was deprived of his liberty for "saying things" about "His High Mightiness."

Has the mailed fist softened or the imperial moustache drooped? In the United States, where public criticism of officials sometimes almost treads upon the law of libel, there would have been second thought before launching some of the rash utterances recently heard in Germany against the emperor's indiscreet diplomacy.

It would seem to be another indication of Germany's advancement in liberality and popular freedom, wherein release from long restraint has been accepted as license to overdo; and, possibly, better and more conservative judgment will later moderate the tone of a free speech that is just now feeling its oats.

There is a world-wide tendency toward greater freedom of speech, as has been recently manifested in some of the most tyrannical of governments, notably Turkey, Persia, China and other countries whose rulers have long held them as close corporations.

But the extent to which it has gone in Germany shatters preconceived notions as from a sudden shock.

The grave danger would seem to be the possibility of too great exercise of license producing unfortunate reaction.

THE POSTAL DEFICIT.

Postmaster General Meyer's announcement that the deficit of $16,910,279 in the postoffice department for the last fiscal year is the largest in its history was not unexpected.

Although the fiscal year came to a close toward the beginning of the national campaign, and before the abuse of the franking privilege became most flagrant, it is, nevertheless, a fact that the free use of the department during the year for the forwarding of mail under congressional frank was 100 per cent greater than ever before.

Most of the matter thus sent comprised partisan political documents, and it is undeniable that this had much to do with increasing the size of the bill which the people have to pay in meeting the department's losses.

The postal deficit in 1905, a non-political year, was slightly less than $15,000,000; now it has grown $2,000,000 larger, and it is not unlikely that with the assistance given by the national campaign, with its abundance of franked documents, the next fiscal year's deficit will show a similar climb upward.

In addition to the political speeches printed in the government printing office, more than fourteen carloads of which were distributed under congressional frank during the year, there were millions of postal cards bearing "Extracts from The Congressional Record," which were nothing more nor less than partisan political attacks upon candidates and policies, printed in private printing offices and distributed without cost to those sending them.

Probably it will never be known just how many tons of mail matter were handled free by the postoffice department, solely for campaign purposes.

Contemplation of this legalized public robbery—it cannot be otherwise correctly named—ought to make even the beneficiaries of it stand aghast.

If the congressional frank is not responsible for the annual postal deficit, it plays so important and large a part in the making of it as to demand first attention in the application of correction.

Congress cannot too speedily get to the work of repeal or radical amendment of the law which permits this unjust, unwarranted and outrageous raid upon the public treasury.

It should be its first duty upon assembling next month to eliminate this form of official graft.

If the disposition to cling to an unrighteous perquisite is permitted to stand in the way, it may soon lead to some changes in the personnel of congressional representation.

TO AID THE PEACH INDUSTRY.

The organization of Georgia peach growers, formed to control the disposition of future crops to the end of securing a better and more equitable price, deserves the heartiest encouragement of all growers, big and little.

It is the expectation of the company to be able to secure to the Georgia peach growers an increase of 50 cents a crate in the price of their fruit. The operation of all the growers.

The organization committee now engaged in securing pledges of cars and subscriptions to stock, has been reasonably successful. Those who have not investigated the purposes and plans of the organization should do so and support it to the extent of their ability.

Every owner of a commercial orchard in Georgia should aid to make this movement a success.

It is admitted by all that the plan of organization is sound and economic. The men at the head of the temporary organization are practical business men, of sound judgment and business acumen.

A plan that promises so much is surely worthy of a fair trial. The pledges now being sought on cars to be placed at the disposal of the Georgia Fruit Exchange are to be renewed only in the event the company's service is satisfactory to the growers. When pledges of 80 per cent of the state's crop are secured, the company announces all pledges will be effective—BUT NONE WILL BE BINDING UNTIL THEN.

The meetings to be held in Sparta on Wednesday, Augusta on Thursday, and in Rome on the 15th, should be well attended. When the plans and purposes of the organization are fully understood, reluctance to join and subscribe to stock will disappear.

The larger growers are contributing liberally within the limit fixed for stock subscriptions. Since the success of the enterprise probably means more to the smaller grower than the larger one, they should not show lack of progressiveness and judgment in this work of self-protection and self-preservation.

"Just From Georgia"

Old-Time Dreams.

I.
Thankful for a winter night—
"Though it's cold—
Old-time dreams—they come in sight
Where the hearth is blazing!
Drift to days of Long Ago—
Rusty pathway through the snow!

II.
Still your eyes, of mornin'—
Givin' life its glory;
Still your little hand in mine
Tells the old, sweet story.
Though Time touched us—worked his will—
Love is stayin' with us still.

III.
After all, 'tis life complete!
What has been denied me?
Winter-winds seen singin' sweet
When you sit beside me.
Sweetest story that we know
Is—"We love each other so!"

IV.
"How Times Have Changed!"
The editor of The Paris Appeal writes of the new times and manners:

"When we were young, people had colds, soaked their feet in hot water and got well. Now they have grip, take quinine and feel all summer. Then they had sore throat, wrapped a piece of fat pork in an old sock, tied it around the neck and went to work the next morning. Now they have tonsillitis, a surgical operation and two weeks in the house. Then they had stomachache and took castor oil and recovered. Now they have appendicitis, a week in the hospital and six feet due east and west and four feet perpendicular. Then they worked, they labor now. In those days they were underclothes, now they wear lingerie. Then they went to a restaurant; now they go to a cafe. Then they broke a leg; now they fracture a limb. People went crazy then; they have brain storms now. Politicians paid good hard cash for support; now they send government garden seeds."

V.
The Fire-Dreamer.

I.
Settin' by the fire, with Molly stirrin' round,
I dream the old dreams over in Recollection Town;
Outside 'twill soon be winter, with the fallin' of the snow,
But I'm with the old-time sweethearts that loved me long ago!

II.
The first sweet flowers she gave me—the loved, fair place I see:
She leaned and kissed the violets as she pinned 'em on for me;
The peaceful paths an' pleasant—the valleys an' the hills
Where, hand-in-hand, we listened to the wild, sweet whippoor-wills!

III.
Settin' by the fire—ah, well! I'm gittin' gray;
Too old to be a dreamer to reap the flowers of May;
The lights an' shadows 'round me like friends of old times seem
While the fire does the talkin', an' I listen, an' I dream:

IV.
"Killed for a While."
The Warrenton (Ga.) Clipper says:
"There was a considerable storm at Royton, doing much damage to crops and houses. Mr. Arthur Gunn was struck by lightning, and it killed him for a while. He has recovered all night again."

V.
"Maple Leaves."
It was Thomas Bailey Aldrich who painted this autumnal picture:
"October turned my maple leaves to gold;
The most are gone now; here and there one lingers:
Soon these will slip from out the twig's weak hold
Like coins between a dying miser's fingers."

VI.
The Airship That Lit Wrong.
"There was a man around here trying to sell airships," says The Billville Banner. "He had a specimen contraption that could fly, and also knew how to light—except in one instance. It was a sample airship, he said, and you had to pay some money down when he took your order, so he could make one for you. After seeing him fly a while, we decided to risk a trip with him. The sheriff was coming to levy on us that day, and we offered the man $6 to fly us clear out of the county. He was agreeable, and we made the start fine, but lo and behold, something got wrong with the machine, and the man said he had to land, and land quick, and to our horror and amazement, we came to terra-firma right in the high-sheriff's front yard! 'Hello!' he hollered from his front porch. 'This here's a unexpected pleasure. I'd just attached the old mule to the buggy to drive over your way an' talk over, or things with you; but we ain't settle the business right here an' now, an' save me the journey!' We had a private conference with the airship man, and he was agreed: between us that if he could get the sheriff in the airship he'd split him out and wreck him on the way; but the sheriff suspected our design, and nothing could induce him to take the risk. So he foreclosed the mortgage on us, and we went away 'exceeding sorrowful,' as the scripture says."

VII.
"Long Lane."
"Long lane is turnin'!"
(But that ain't what to brag on;
Nise to ten, my merry men,
It overturns the wagon!)

VIII.
That's the way it goes!
It's a world of woes!
Half the time you strike the thorn
And never reach the rose!

IX.
"Long lane is turnin'!"
But—better far to lag on
The rocky way, from day to day,
Than overturn the wagon!

X.
That's the way it goes!
You're burnin' up, or freeze!
And how we ever got there
There's just nobody knows!

XI.
Had Narrow Escape.
Valdosta, Ga., November 12.—(Special.)
A white man living near the city, was rescued by the police last night just in time to prevent him being out to pieces by a train on the Atlanta Coast Line railway. Webb went to sleep on the track, and was discovered just a few minutes before a freight train came through.

Letters from the People

Religious Tolerance—Politics.

Editor Constitution: Let me commend your splendid editorial on "Religious Belief and Politics," that appeared in Tuesday's issue of The Constitution, consequent upon the publication of the open letter by President Roosevelt in reply to arguments concerning the religious faith of President-elect Taft.

The editorial, which, in its tenor, is highly complimentary to both of the named chieftains of American statesmanship, is all the more precious from the fact that it issued from the pen which but a few days ago was so earnestly engaged in antagonizing the policies of the faction they represent. The Constitution, a dauntless defender of democracy, in its political as well as its moral sense, thus manifests its keenest sense of appreciation of the good deeds and words even of its political opponents, and thus tends to verify the truth that wherever the ground principles of the American constitution are involved, there all sectional and creedal differences disappear; there all true Americans are a unit; there all bow in deep reverence and submission to the will of an all-ruling Providence, in whose hand are the destinies of man and nation.

President Roosevelt's exposition of American principle, of word and act, cannot fail to evoke the admiration of all existing sections and spheres, and to win the hearts of all liberty-loving citizens in this great country. Such plain and unsophisticated interpretation of American democracy is rare; worthy of its pride and glory in the sight of all the world. Such unprecedented doctrine from the man thrice exalted and followed implicitly by the millions of free Americans, is doubtless the harbinger of a new era of universal liberty and right.

But the Roosevelt message of love must circulate far and wide; must be reechoed throughout the continent, and must reach the farthest ends of the habitable globe, so as to instruct and enlighten those who dwell in darkness, with whom God is still a monopolized being, and who, in the fashion of primitive barbarity, still continue in all their hideousness of religious persecution.

It takes a master mind, an original independent thinker such as President Roosevelt, to advance the loftier ideals and conceptions of Americanism; but it remains with all other leaders of thought to carry these teachings abroad; to elicit the moralis therefrom and foster their spirit among the people by means of platform, pulpit and press. All hail the example that go to broaden the minds of humanity; to infuse into the hearts of reasoning beings the potency of natural religion, beside the dogmatic creed, of each individual person, and that is the sense of a boundless sympathy and love toward all of God's creatures; the feeling of "justice to all," the recognition of eternal right which knows no rank, nor race, nor creed, but distinguishes man according to his personal and moral qualifications.

For such noble thought as expressed in the editorial mentioned above, all credit is due to The Constitution.

Worthy of Consideration.

Editor Constitution: The present excitement over affairs municipal is a good time to agitate the question of city government by commission, as first adopted by Galveston, Tex., and afterwards followed in several other cities in the United States. The new plan is said to be eminently satisfactory and results in eliminating politics altogether. Yours truly,

TOTAL DIVORCE ASKED

BY JOS. F. THIBAUDEAU

Plea for Separation Follows Arrest of Mrs. Thibaudau—Husband Asks for Children.

Joseph F. Thibaudau, superintendent of carriers at the Atlanta postoffice, yesterday filed suit for divorce against his wife, Mrs. Annie E. Thibaudau, nee Annie E. Duval, charging her with adultery and names Robert E. Cullinane as co-respondent.

He alleges that she has committed adultery with not only Robert E. Cullinane on this one occasion, to wit, November 9, but on several previous occasions and since the petition was filed, and also with diverse other persons whose names are not known.

He asks for a total divorce on these grounds and the custody of the three children, Helen, aged 11 years; Harold, aged 8 years, and Frances, aged 4 years.

Mr. Thibaudau claims that his property consists of the wearing apparel of himself and three children and household effects at 45 East Ninth street. He places Mrs. Thibaudau's property as a house and lot, on which there are two mortgages, one of $2,850 and another of $600.

Thursday afternoon in Judge Bloodworth's court Mr. Cullinane waived a preliminary hearing and gave bail in the sum of $5,000 to appear in the criminal division of the superior court. His case had been set for Saturday.

Mrs. Thibaudau's case is also set for Saturday, but it is understood that the case against her will not be pushed.

Colonel George L. Bell represents the plaintiff in the divorce suit.

NOT MRS. ADA BAILEY.

She Did Not Figure in the Affinity Shooting on Decatur Street.

The woman who figured in the sensational shooting on Decatur street Tuesday, in which an alleged affinity was the object of the shots, is not Mrs. Ada Bailey, who resides at 436 East Fair street. This Mrs. Bailey is the mother of Buford Bailey, who was killed on the Whitehall street viaduct early last spring.

Graham Was Selected.

Richmond, Va., November 12.—The Rev. A. T. Graham was today unanimously chosen by the board of trustees president of Hampton University, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. J. Gray McAlister, under several months ago.

Dr. Graham has been several years pastor of the Presbyterian church at Farmville. He is 51 years old and a native of Winchester.

LIVED 40 YEARS IN SAME HOUSE

Mrs. Duncan Very Ill—One of Peachtree's Pioneers.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Duncan, aged 81, for forty years the occupant of the little white house with green blinds at the corner of Peachtree and West Harris streets, nineteen years of which she has been an invalid from paralysis, is lying critically ill there now, and her friends are apprehensive that the end is near.

In attendance upon her is her brother, her youngest and now her only brother, Zack C. Fort, aged 78, of Jonesboro, Ga., her only relative. A trained nurse is in attendance upon her at all times, but with her, too, is her constant nurse, "Pinkie" Carter, who has been her nurse for the past nineteen years, and who has raised a grown daughter, Sally Dix, to aid in her ministrations.

In the lifetime of Mrs. Duncan Atlanta has grown from a hamlet to a city, and she has known its every change from before the war. Her home, which she came into as a bride nearly forty-five years ago, is one of the few homes now standing in the city which was spared when Sherman paid a flying visit to this city.

Single-storied, immaculately white in its paint with the green blinds, at all the windows and doors, closed most of the time, with its boxwood trees leading from the steps to the front gate, it is one of the most noticeable and at the same time unpretentious homes on that fashionable thoroughfare.

When Mrs. Duncan, who is the widow of the late J. W. Duncan, for some time editor of The Atlanta Intelligencer, first moved into her present home it was one of the most attractive residences on that now exclusive street. Then Peachtree continued on West Peachtree, and the present Peachtree was merely a by-path.

During the war she remained in her home. Her brother, who now watches tenderly at her bedside, was a member of Joe Brown's militia, commanded by Colonel Neely, and garrisoned in the barracks in what is now her garden. One of the few gardens on Peachtree street. During that trying period a bomb burst near the back of the house and there still remains a gash in the back room wall a mute witness to the hostilities then.

In her lifetime Mrs. Duncan has seen Atlanta grow and expand. The first street car—old horse car—she saw run by her door; the first gas light flared into life at the corner of her home; the first electric light sprang into brilliancy near her home.

She has seen all of Atlanta's strides toward progress and prosperity, and in her illness one of the pioneers of the city is stricken.

FATHER GUNN GOES TO CHICAGO

Missionary Convention of Catholic Church Will Be Represented by Distinguished Georgians.

The Right Rev. Bishop Kelley, of Savannah, who has been in Atlanta two or three days past, guest of Father Gunn at Sacred Heart, left the city last night, accompanied by Father Gunn, for Chicago to attend the missionary convention on Catholic Church Extension Society, which convenes in that city Sunday for a four days' session.

To develop the missionary spirit among the clergy and the people of the Catholic church is the great object of the society, which will show a large membership during the coming meeting. The erection of churches and parish buildings or any possible aid, it matters not how little, to churches or parish buildings for the poor and needy will be one of the features of the coming gathering. At the meeting will be some of the most distinguished members of the church. Every state in the union will be represented.

Thrust $2,000 in Stove and Then Took His Life—Wanted No Quarrel Over Money.

Helena, Mont., November 12.—Albert Berger, a former Alaska miner, just before committing suicide, thrust $2,000 in money into a stove and set it on fire. JOE WHEELER'S WARRIORS HOLD ANNUAL MEMORIAL

The members of Wheeler's Confederate cavalry will hold their annual memorial service at the Central Congregational church Sunday night at 7:45 o'clock. The call for the meeting has been issued by J. S. Prather, commander, and George A. Webster, adjutant.

At 7:40 o'clock the members of the body will assemble in front of the church and enter in a body to seats which have been reserved for them. Members of the camps 169, Stonewall Jackson, Tippecanoe and Walker, together with friends generally, have been invited to join in the service.

MORE BRITISH WARSHIPS.

Premier Asquith Explains What Is Meant by Two-Power Standard.

London, November 12.—Premier Asquith set forth in the house of commons today what was meant by the two-power standard of naval armaments of Great Britain, and his announcement brought out hearty cheers from all sides. Up to the present time Mr. Asquith has been noncommittal concerning a radical definition of this standard, which the government is pledged to maintain.

The premier informed Arthur Lee, conservative member of the house, that the government accepted the two-power standard as meaning a preponderance of 10 per cent over the combined strength in capital ships of the two next strongest naval powers.

This statement is taken to confirm the belief held in naval circles that at least six, and perhaps seven, additional warships of the Dreadnaught type will be provided for in the next naval estimates.

Why He Was Recalled.

St. Petersburg, November 12.—Mr. G. H. Harlow, the Russian minister to Persia, whose recall was announced yesterday, returned to the city for the purpose of giving to the ministry a more complete account of the situation at Tehran than can be obtained from an exchange of dispatches. The newspapers assume that Mr. Harlow will not return to his post, but this idea seems unjustified.

DR. C. B. WILMER MILITARY DAY RECEIVES CALL MUCH ENJOYED

Rector of St. Luke's May Go Dinner Was Served to Military Men by Valdosta Daughters of Confederacy.

Dr. C. B. Wilmer, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church, on Peachtree street, one of the foremost members of that church in the country, has received a flattering call to the rectorate of Christ church, at Little Rock, Ark., and, with Mrs. Wilmer, leaves this afternoon for that city to conduct the service Sunday. This does not mean that he will accept the call, but it merely an opportunity for him to meet the vestry of that church, which is so anxious to secure him, and for them to hear him preach.

Dr. Wilmer received this call last week. Sunday a delegation of five vestrymen from that church, composed of Messrs. Wright, Lee, Hicks, Bunch and Watt, came to Atlanta and attended services at St. Luke's on that day. Upon leaving they requested that he come to Little Rock next Sunday to conduct the services in Christ church. It is in compliance with this request that he, with Mrs. Wilmer, leaves this afternoon. Dr. Wilmer will not make a decision as to the call until after he has returned from Little Rock.

Than Dr. Wilmer there are few more profound scholars in the pulp and his services are always well attended. He came to St. Luke's when that church was located at the corner of Houston and North Pryor streets. Despite the fact that many of the parishioners withdrew from the mother church, St. Luke's, to establish All Saint's church at the corner of West Peachtree and North avenue, Dr. Wilmer has continued to build up his congregation, and it was due largely to him that the present handsome home of the congregation now graces Peachtree street. As a student and a writer, Dr. Wilmer is well known throughout the country. His sermons are direct, forceful and instructive. His parishioners will use every effort to retain his services, for the loss of him, it is felt, would be a great blow to the church in Atlanta and to the state.

HOW TO HANDLE A COW, ASK CALL OFFICER LONG

If you want any information about how to handle a fractious cow go to C. P. Long, call officer at the police station, for since a little occurrence of yesterday's past master in the art.

It happened in this wise: Long was plodding along East Hunter street in the direction of police headquarters about 9:30 o'clock, when he heard a great hue and cry up the street a short distance away.

"Head that cow," he heard a small boy shout.

"Moo, moo, moo," bellowed the beast as she came lumbering along the highway, tail to windward.

"Baa-a-a-a," bleated her little calf, just behind.

When Long saw the true for action had come he bravely stepped in front of the mother cow and flagged her. As she came to a full stop a rope she was carrying tied to her horns became entangled about her hind legs.

So far, so good. Long went up to the excited beast and she stood her ground. He stooped a little to disentangle the rope, when "Burr" went the calf next to him, catching him on the left hand and forearm, and "Burr" went her head, as she caught him squarely in the pit of the stomach.

Long couldn't tell which hit him first. He wouldn't say what direction he took afterwards. But he knew he tried to stop a cow, and probably always will.

Grand Duke Is Sinking.

Treves Prussia, November 12.—Grand Duke William Alexander of Luxembourg is today sinking rapidly, and the chambers have decided to request his wife, the grand duchess, permanent to accept the regency which she took over temporarily last April. The grand duke, who was born in 1852, is completely paralyzed on one side, his power of speech is gone, and he is mentally incapable. He has been ill for several years.

SEEK TO UNITE COTTON FORCES

Plan Inaugurated at Memphis Cotton Conference.

NIGHT RIDING IS DENOUNCED

One Member, However, Created Sensational Event by Defending Riders—Stock Gambling Condemned and Accurate Reports Urged.

Memphis, Tenn., November 12.—If plans inaugurated today are brought to a successful issue, an organization will be formed, under the direction of Harvie Jordan, president of the Southern Cotton Association, which will have for its purpose the accomplishment of the objectives of both the Southern Cotton Association and the National Farmers' Union, and include among its membership all those whose interests are in any manner dependent, either directly or indirectly, on the success of the cotton growing industry. The adoption of a resolution to that effect was one of the concluding incidents of the conference of planters and others whose interests are associated in the growth and marketing of the cotton crop, which has been in session here for the past three days.

To Meet Farmers' Union. Among the suggestions approved by the conference was one by H. H. Rogers, of Louisville, Miss., that a committee be appointed to meet a like committee from the Farmers' Union to agree as to plans for the formation of an incorporation of business men to finance the growing and marketing of the cotton crop. Besides the formal report of the resolutions committee, which was adopted unanimously, another suggestion which was indorsed provided for the agitation as to the feasibility of the cotton growers establishing manufacturing plants. Stock gambling and dealing in futures were also condemned.

The salient features of the reports of the resolutions adopted.

A recommendation that a part of the cotton crop of 1908 remaining in the hands of the producers be held for a market price of 10 cents for short staple. If a better price than 10 cents can be obtained, it is urged the crop be slowly disposed of.

A recommendation that cotton growers avoid indebtedness at the time of gathering crops as much as possible, that they may be enabled to market their crop gradually throughout the year.

A request to the bankers of the south that they take up the proposition of a great cotton bank. The bankers are also urged to accept warehouse receipts as collateral in making loans to cotton growers.

A recommendation that cotton growers take up the proposition of cultivating other crops than cotton when such is possible.

An extension of warehouse facilities, an increase in cotton factories in the south, and a condemnation of night riding is given.

Resolutions on Night Riding. On night riding the resolutions say: "The meeting condemns in unmeasured terms the recent lawlessness throughout a few of our southern states, known as night riding, and we urge that the government of the various states where this evil is threatening the welfare of the people, to take immediate and decisive action for effectively suppressing it."

A Sensational Incident.

Fiery denunciation of night riding, and equally fiery defense of the night riders, threw the cotton convention into disorder and nearly terminated the day's session before the program had fairly begun. While excited delegates hurled charges and counter-charges against each other, T. U. Sisson, of Mississippi, made himself heard above the roar and moved the convention adjourn sine die.

President Harvie Jordan, pounding continuously throughout the confusion, finally brought a semblance of quiet and made a plea for order. His words succeeded in stilling the excitement, but it was only after the most sensational event of the convention.

Walter Clark, of Clarkdale, Miss., precipitated the trouble when he wandered from the subject of "baling and handling of cotton" to discuss the night riding situation. He bitterly denounced night riding, called the night riders "curs" and men who shot people in the back.

A. C. Roane, a resident of northern Mississippi, jumped on his chair and called Mr. Clark to order. He said the night riders were an oppressed people fighting for what they believed to be right, working against overwhelming odds, but always from the best motives. His words created a sensation in the convention, and men stood on their chairs and the greatest confusion prevailed.

President Jordan refused to entertain the motion of Mr. Sisson to adjourn sine die, and requested Mr. Clark to go on with his paper. This he did, and the program was proceeded with.

Conclusion of Meeting. The committee estimated the 1908-09 crop at 11,600,000 bales.

The closing address of the conference was by Judge Eugene Williams on "Better Baling and Hauling of the Cotton Crop."

At the conclusion of Judge Williams' address the convention adjourned sine die.

Salim DeBray grabbed Judge Candier's arm just as he hurried the glass and thereby spoiled his aim, the glass smashing against the back of Colonel Brewster's chair. The only notice the court took of the incident was, "Judge Candier, resume your argument," and things went on as peacefully as before.

Judge Candier said, after the incident, that he was sorry it happened, as he had no ill-feeling against Colonel Brewster, and the act was just the result of hasty temper. Every one agrees in the opinion that the incident is closed, and that the two lawyers will resume their friendship just as if nothing had happened to mar it.

DOCTORS HOLD FINAL SESSION

Association Meets in New Orleans Next Year.

DR. SAVAGE IS PRESIDENT

One of the Most Interesting Events of Last Day Was the Address by Former Governor W. J. Northern on "Tuberculosis Among Negroes."

Dr. G. C. Savage, of Nashville, Tenn., was Thursday elected president of the Southern Medical Association, which concluded its three days' session in the afternoon after choosing New Orleans as the place of meeting for next year.

Dr. Oscar Dowling, of Shreveport, La., was unanimously re-elected secretary.

DR. OSCAR DOWLING, of Shreveport, La., Re-elected Secretary.

recommended an appropriation of $100 as a gift to Secretary Dowling "in recognition of his services and not in full compensation."

The convention accepted the suggestion of Dr. Dowling to change the name of The Medical Record, published at Shreveport, La., to that of The Journal of the Southern Medical Association, and by printing all of the papers read at this meeting make it the official organ of the association as suggested by Former President Wyman in his annual address.

The convention, by a unanimous vote, returned its thanks to the doctors of Fulton county for their lavish entertainment and suggested that in future not to provide too much entertainment.

Other Officers Chosen. The work of selecting the new officers was begun Wednesday afternoon when the following physicians were named as the nominating committee to select officers for the ensuing year:

Dr. J. F. McKinstry, Jr., chairman, and Drs. William Perrin Nicolson, Atlanta; George H. Price, Tennessee; Z. B. Chamblin, Alabama; H. L. Southern, Mississippi; and G. S. Bell, Louisiana.

The nominating committee returned three names to be voted on for the presidency—Dr. Joseph H. White, of Louisiana; Dr. W. W. Crawford, of

SECOND DAY OF CONVENTION A BUSY ONE FOR DAUGHTERS

MRS. ROZELLE C. COOLEY,
Secretary General of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Three Business Sessions and a Number of Large and Small Social Functions Marked Day—Educational Work Indorsed.

By Irma Dooly.

The second day's happenings of the annual meeting of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was a busy one yesterday.

There were three sessions, morning, afternoon and evening, and two social functions, a luncheon at the Piedmont hotel and a reception in the afternoon at the home of Mrs. Bolling Jones, the president of the Atlanta Woman's Club. There were several smaller entertainments to special guests, among these a luncheon given by Mrs. Barbour Thompson at the Capital City Club, in honor of Mrs. Claude Swanson, of Virginia, and a dinner party in the evening given by Mrs. Robert Emory Park, in honor of Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone and Mrs. Virginia Clay Cioption.

On all sides, in the assembly hall where the convention holds, in the Piedmont hotel and in private homes, the confederate colors, red and white, prevail, flowers of white and red blending their fragrance with the beauty of arrangement.

Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone called the morning session to order at 10 o'clock, and on the platform with her were Mrs. Poe, Maryland, second vice president; Mrs. A. J. Dowdell, Opelika, Ala., recording secretary; Mrs. L. E. Williams, Kentucky, treasurer; Mrs. Lucian H. Raines, Savannah, Ga.; Mrs. Frank Anthony Walke, Norfolk, Va., custodian of flags and pennants; Mrs. Helen C. Plane, Atlanta, Ga., honorable president Georgia division, U. D. C.; Mrs. Virginia Clay Cioption, Alabama; Mrs. E. C. Gabbert, referee for Georgia; Mrs. J. C. Brown, Tennessee; Miss Alice Baxter, Mrs. Lizzie George Henderson, Mrs. R. E. Park, Mrs. R. C. Cooley, secretary; Mrs. J. K. Ottley, chairman general program committee; Mrs. E. G. Warner, president Atlanta chapter.

President's Clever Remarks.

Through the entire morning session, which was replete with interesting events, and not without exciting incidents, Mrs. Stone proved herself not only an excellent parliamentarian, but a woman of admirable poise and patience. Indifference to parliamentary procedure on the part of some delegates and the disposition of others to compare notes about things that interested them, compelled interruptions to the regular program which must have been extremely trying to the presiding officer.

Following the reading of the minutes, the first report made was that of Mrs. Raines, of Savannah, custodian of the cross of honor, who told of her trials and tribulations in giving out through chapters the badge of honor which the Daughters confer upon veterans. She outlined those clauses of the constitution and by-laws governing the giving of the crosses, and urged strict adherence to these hereafter. Her report was accepted and a vote of thanks accorded her. It was during a discussion following her report that explanation was given of the incident of the old confederate soldier at the Elksville Soldiers' home who had given his cross of honor to a federal officer, the same having been reported to the state division, U. D. C., through which the cross was given out.

The chairman of the delegation representing this division expressed deep regret that the incident, over which they had no power, had occurred. They were in no way responsible, as the soldier who received the cross, and so desecrated it as to "give it over to the enemy," was eligible as a recipient, though proving himself so unworthy afterwards.

In dealing with the report of the incident, Mrs. Stone spoke beautifully of the significance of the cross of honor, as a badge of honor and courage, and admonished the Daughters to observe the utmost care and discretion in conferring the same.

Hats Off.

A pleading voice from the rear of the room begged "madame president" to request that hats be removed, as they obstructed the view, and the request was cheerfully acted upon. Another voice from the room requested that speakers pitch their voices on a higher key.

Silence was obtained when the clear voice and distinct utterance of Mrs. E. G. Buford, of Nashville, was heard in a message she brought from Mrs. Goodlett, of Tennessee, founder of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Mrs. Buford is co-president with her husband of the Buford college, Tennessee, where hundreds of southern girls have received their education, one each year sent on a scholarship given by Mrs. Goodlett. The contents of the message was education. The daughters were impressed that no greater patriotic work could be accomplished by them than that of wiping out the illiteracy of the south, and filling jails and almshouses. She stressed the fact that these unfortunate were many of them, descendants of confederate soldiers.

At the conclusion of her address Miss Alice Baxter, president of the Georgia division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, was recognized, and claimed for Georgia the first educational work taking the form of benefiting the living while perpetuating the memory of the heroic dead. She referred to the Winifred Davis dormitory, built by the Georgia daughters at the State Normal school, at Athens, Ga., and the Francis Bartow dormitory, now being built by the Georgia daughters at the Rabun Gap Industrial school, Rabun Gap, Ga.

Mrs. Ottley's Resolution.

Acting upon the suggestions made by Mrs. Goodlett in her message, Mrs. John King Ottley, of Atlanta, introduced a resolution, bearing upon educational matters, as follows:
I move the creation of an education committee of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, which shall render at each annual convention a systematic report of all educational work already being done by the various divisions and to stimulate further effort on the part of divisions toward placing within reach of the descendants of every United Confederate Veteran an opportunity for that wise and rational education which should be theirs to so fight the battle of life as to prove themselves worthy of their honorable inheritance.

Custodian of Flags.

Mrs. Frank Anthony Walke, custodian of flags, made an interesting report and explained the significance of the different flags of the order—some being in the nature of memorials, others souvenirs of conventions or events, the flag presented by the general order to the Atlanta chapter coming under the latter head.

At the conclusion of her report Mrs. Mollie Magill Rosenberg, of Texas, presented to the general order of the United Daughters of the Confederacy a beautiful flag, silk, hand embroidered, in commemoration of the one hundredth birthday of Jefferson Davis, General C. A. Evans was present and accepted the flag in well chosen words on the part of the order, and the presentation of the tribute paid the great chief-tain.

The President's Address.

The feature address of the morning was that of the president general of the order, the address covering thoroughly not only the year's work under her regime, but setting forth the status of each branch of work, represented by the daughters, these including soldiers' homes, monuments, relief and educational work, and cooperation work with the veterans. She then made recommendations, to be acted upon by committees in due time, and concluded her address with congratulatory and loving expressions.

The meeting adjourned for luncheon at the Piedmont hotel until 3 o'clock, when the memorial services took place.

A Moment's Silence.

The afternoon session of the United Daughters of the Confederacy convention was in the nature of memorial services to the distinguished ones who have passed from the ranks of the confederate orders during the year. The addresses were made by the chairman of different state divisions, the program as follows:

8 p. m.—Minutes. Memorial service. Prayer, Rev. A. R. Holderby. Music. Tribute to Mrs. Edwin C. G. Jones, ex-president general of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, Mrs. R. C. Cooley, chairman; Mrs. Sheldon Surrer, president Florida division, United Daughters of the Confederacy; Mrs. Henry A. Long, chairman; Mrs. Braxton Bragg, honorary president; Mrs. D. A. S. Vaught, chairman; General Stephen D. Lee, commander-in-chief, United Confederate Veterans; Mrs. Daisy McLaurin Stevens, chairman. General Alexander P. Stewart, lieutenant general, Confederate States of America, Mrs. M. B. Fitcher, chairman.

At the conclusion of the formal program, Sister Esther Carliotti, representing the St. Augustine chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, arose and made the motion, that, in memory of the confederates who had passed during the year, the entire audience arise and remain standing for one moment in silence. This was done. In the evening the officers and directors of the Arlington Memorial Association held an executive session in the parlors of the Piedmont hotel.

Dr. W. K. Brooks Dead.

Baltimore, November 12.—Dr. William Keith Brooks, professor of zoology at Johns Hopkins university, and since the founding of that institution continuously in its service, died today after a prolonged illness. He was born at Cleveland, Ohio, sixty years ago. Dr. Brooks was distinguished as a biologist and was known as "the father of the oyster culture" through his book on "The Oyster." He was a member of the National Academy of Sciences and the American Philosophical Society.

Big Dredge in Port.

Montgomery, Ala., November 12.—(Special.) The big river dredge, Edmund W. Pettus, named for the late Senator Pettus, is tied up at the local Alabama river wharf. It will be fitted out with high power engines and pumps and made to keep the river open all the year from Montgomery to Mobile. The dredge was built at Gulfport, Miss., towed to Selma to be disassembled and then drawn up the river to receive the machinery, which had been sent ahead.

Jewelry, Sterling Silver and Novelties in a Special Sale of the most Surprising Kind at 9 O'clock This Morning. Prices That Spell Good-Bye for This Merchandise.

This is a sale for the specific purpose of clearing out a whole lot of merchandise for which we haven't space. It's merchandise that will make perfectly splendid Christmas gifts.

It's a wise shopper who buys appropriate and beautiful things when she can get them for next to nothing. She'll have a quiet little laugh 'bout six weeks from now when other women are rushing frantically around trying to "get something."

But that's for her to say. Here are stocks of pretty things and they are going to be sold at prices that will sell them fast and furiously.

JEWELRY

Most of these trinkets are in good shape, some are damaged. The variety is almost endless. We mention a few items to show the prices. You'll see how absurdly low they are:

GIRL UNCOVERS MURDER MYSTERY

Miss Hoganson Suspected Her Brother Had Been Slain.

CORPSE DUG FROM GROUND

Body Had Been Buried in Soft Earth
of Chicken House—But for Sister's Presentiment the Crime
Would Never Have Been Revealed.

Chicago, November 12.—Out on a desolate little plot of ground, two miles north of Marengo, a girl has uncovered a murder mystery, the details of which indicate so cold-blooded a crime that the farmers living in the vicinity have been fascinated by the scene.

The body of Oscar Hoganson, a young farmer who was living the life of a hermit on his own farm, has been dug out of the soft earth of a chicken house on the farm of John N. Bedford. Just a few feet away a bloody hatchet was unearthed. Bedford, like Hoganson, had been living alone on his farm, but disappeared immediately after Hoganson's death. Such a mass of circumstantial evidence was discovered which pointed to him that when he finally was found in Ellis, Neb., he was arrested and now is being brought back to Chicago. The man was taken while on his way to see his mother at Beatrice, Neb.

Dead Man's Sister.

A strange presentiment of the dead man's sister, Arvilla Hoganson, is credited with the discovery of the body. The girl cannot explain the feeling which caused her to visit the place and lead the searchers to dig in that particular spot. She was certain, however, that she had reached the grave of her murdered brother, and the diggers soon verified her belief.

The work of unraveling the mystery began more than a week ago, when Arvilla began to worry because her brother had failed to write his weekly letters. The girl immediately declared that some awful thing had happened to him, although she had no information upon which to base such a belief.

After two days it was decided to visit the farm and learn just what had happened to Hoganson. So Arvilla, accompanied by her brother, James, visited the place early one morning about a week ago. The house was found in seemingly good order. The man's clothes and belongings all appeared to be as he might have left them, with one exception. His three horses were missing.

Inquiry was made among the neighbors and somebody remembered having seen Hoganson walking toward the farm of Bedford, a distance of about a mile, on the morning of October 29.

Other neighbors remembered having seen a man whom they supposed to be Bedford at Hoganson's place in the evening, hitching up one of the missing horses. The other two horses, they declared, were hitched to the rear of the rig. As the man drove away in the dusk they were unable to make certain whether it was actually Bedford. A few days after this, Bedford left the district.

The Girl Suspected Bedford.

Miss Hoganson stood a sleep-listener to the statements and theories of the farmers.

"I am satisfied that the thing to do is to visit this man Bedford's place," she said. "I have a feeling that we are going to settle this thing right there."

So the sister and brother, together with a crowd of curious farmers, hurried to Bedford's place. The girl walked straight to the chicken house. The floor of the house was paved smoothly with round cobblestones, and, to a superficial observer, meant nothing.

But the girl called attention to the fact that several stones had been taken up and replaced again. The men began working with picks and shovels. The girl, weak with the certainty that the body of her brother was about to be uncovered, stepped back and would have left the place.

"Villars, we've got it," exclaimed the brother, at the same time drawing from the ground a muddy coat-sleeve which contained the arm of the dead man.

The girl staggered back from the shed and, while the others continued their work, hurried to the house. In the meantime her brother had eluded the curious ones and had entered the house by an open window.

In the parlor he saw bloodstains on the walls and floor of the room near the door. There had been efforts to wash the spots from the floor, but they still were visible.

Deep Wound on Temple.

When the murdered man's body was examined it was discovered that the wound upon his left temple was so clean and so deep that it was pronounced, at first, to be a gunshot wound. The coroner's jury, which was gathered at once, returned a verdict accordingly.

A few days later, after the body had been brought to Chicago and buried, it was suggested that another wound on the other side of the head if it was fired as close as such a deep wound would have indicated. So the body was disinterred and a closer examination disclosed the fact that the wound had been caused by a powerful swing of some blunt instrument.

The indefatigable James Hoganson still was staying in the vicinity of the farm, so he made a search for such a weapon. It was but a matter of but a few minutes, when, in the rear of the chicken shed in which his brother's body had been buried, he found the bloody hatchet, which apparently had been used by the murderer.

Keely-Ziegler Shoes

There is no reason why the Walking Shoe should not be as neat, and trim, and easy as the Home Shoe. A kinship of handsome shape shows in every "Keely-Ziegler" Shoe—luxurious, knock-about, common. Quality, elegance, price; good care has been taken that there be no slip on either. These are the successful, often-asked-for "Keely-Ziegler's" for dress. All for women.

- $3.50 Tan Kidskin, plain toes, military heels, button or lace.
- $3.50 Tan Russia, plain toes, military heels, button and lace.
- $3.50 Patent coltskin, Blucher and button, tipped toes, military heels.
- $4.00 Dull-finished Kidskin, plain and tipped toes, Cuban heels.
- $4.00 Patent Coltskin, black corkscrew cloth tops, plain toes, Cuban heels.

Put a drag-net over the world for Women's and Misses' Shoes and the "Keely-Ziegler" will top the lot in worth. No guesswork. We Know.

Women's Shirts

The women who have come to consider us as standing almost alone in this class of merchandise will still have reason to continue their good opinion of us in this respect when they see these Shirts

Women's Linene Shirts, plaited bosoms, strictly tailor-made, one pocket.

Women's White Linen Shirts, dainty figures hand-embroidered

$5.00

These Shirts are very much liked and have been hard to find. Their counter now glistens with newcomers. All sizes ready.

Women's Suits $12.50

The mystery of their price is no mystery at all.

Aggregation is economy. In other words, large production reduces cost. Huge rolls of cloth shrunk by steam, dried by hot air and examined by several trained experts instead of one save time. A small steel blade whetted sharp as a razor, driven by electricity, saws its way through twenty layers of cloth in a marvelously short space of time—hewing out twenty Suits in three or four minutes. Incredible speed marks every other step of their finishing progress. A machine, deft as human fingers, makes button holes in the twinkling of an eye, almost.

The slowness and crudeness of "cheap" hand-work has given way to rapid and precise machine work in the manufacture of low-priced Suits. They are substantial and reliable none the less because of that. In no other way could such great values get within your reach.

Present prices are pinched by other influences. Warm weather; retarded re-orders; unexpected but insistent countermands—these and other causes create decisive bargain chances.

We have never had personal acquaintance with any line of Women's Suits that represented such astounding cheapness as the collection we now offer at $12.50.

This Suit business is a text for solid thinking. Skeleton of thought here—dress them up. You'll find money-saving in them.

Women's Coats $10.00

An unexampled offering: Women's Full-length Coats. Women's Three-quarter-length Coats. Women's Short Coats. The materials, styles and varieties are right; the price is more than right.

Scotch Mixtures, Tweeds, Cheviots, Coverts and Cloths—all well-tried, accepted Coat stuffs—made up in the freshest and most popular Empire, half-fitted and tailor effects.

Nothing in the house so valuable for so little. The qualities and the price may do the talking.

Women's Hosiery

If you want Hosiery now is a harvest time. The lots open even better than we thought. It's a happy chance that has turned such a stream of worth-double-the-cost Hose within your reach.

For good staying fashion what is there better than Black Lisle Thread Hose embroidered with dainty stripes and pretty detached figures and sprigs in silk thread a-shine with all the delicate tints—sky, pink, lavender, Nile, coral, peach, heliotrope, turquoise, tan, reseda and the like. Tattooed like the legs of a Tartar captive. Some have lace ankles. The importer bought too many. You save half on some of them by his mischance.

Women's 39c Women's $1 49c
50c Hose at Hose at

Charming, graceful Hose—just twenty-five dozen pairs at each price. Look at the texture of the Lisle fabric; look at the fineness of the embroidery.

Women's and Misses' Sweaters

Just a mention of Sweaters the other day. Now it seems as if everybody wanted them. What wonder? light, warmthful, convenient. Not the sleazy, long-fuzz kind that picks up leaves and limbs and crawlers. Strange how the makers can get so much of shape and color and fol-de-rol generally in a Misses' Sweater for $2.00 and a Woman's for $3.00. Alice coat styles, of course. Fitted or straight back. The prices are away behind values.

Women's Underwear

Broken assortments put this cold-weather Underwear at a warm-weather price. Last week they were $1.00 and $1.50, and the profit-margins were very narrow at that.

Women's $1.00 Merino Vests and pants, white and natural gray.

Women's $1.00 Full-bleached Ribbed Cotton Union Suits

Women's $1.00 "Vega" Silk Vests and Tights, pink and sky.

Women's $1.50 Mixed Wool Union Suits, white and natural gray.

Women's $1.00 Knitted Petticoats, natural gray, navy and cardinal

Early buyers get the pick, of course. A glance at the goods is enough to set any quick-witted woman buying.

Chicago, November 12.—After establishing a new high record mark for the day delivery and equalling yesterday's high price for December, the wheat market today eased off on profit-taking and closed weak, at net losses for the day of 1-4 to 2-8. Corn was steady.

white 61 1/4 @ 62c. Oats, No. 2 white 47 1/2 @ 50c; No. 2 mixed 47 1/4 @ 48c. Receipts, wheat 74,000; corn 19,000; oats 4,000. Shipments, wheat 78,000; corn 7,000; oats 14,000.

ber to $1.04, the wheat market was sharply inclined all day, and closed most at the bottom figures, with December at $1.03 1-8, and May at $.07 1-4@.07 3-8. The weakness was chiefly in the soft wheats, and the Chicago market was not much affected. The following are the closing figures for the principal grades of wheat and rye at the principal grain markets, November 12.—Flour, quiet.
Wheat firm at $1.07@1.08. Corn firm used chiefly on reports of small offerings in the country. The market closed weak and near the low point, with prices unchanged to 1-4c lower. Final ations on December were at 62 1-8c, and on May at 62 1-4c to 3-8c. Local receipts were 109 cars, with 2 of contract grade. The following prices for apples displayed moderate firmness early in the season:

the day on buying by shorts, but came weak late in the session, as a result of selling by longs and cereal manufacturers. The decline in wheat and corn also had a weakening influence on the market.

Vegetables:—Vegetables were generally weak, but the market was not very active. The following quotations are for the week ending July 10: Virginia cabbage, per pound 2½c; onions, per bushel $1.00; celery, per bunch 65c; oranges, (Florida, all sizes, $2.25; peanuts, per pound 7c; Irish potatoes, per bushel $1.00. BEN JONES MADE A LIFE MEMBER Token of Appreciation Bestowed by the State Agricultural Society.

Brown House, Macon, Ga., November 12.—(Special).—Announcement is made today at the office of the State Fair Association that all the indebtedness of the fair has been paid. Arrangements have been made for holding the annual meeting of the stockholders next Monday evening, and at that time a full report of the receipts and disbursements will be made by all the officers. President Ben Jones is already receiving letters from many exhibitors expressing thanks for the prompt and businesslike manner in which the payments have been met. After all the receipts are in hand and the stockholders have paid up, there will be no other business awaiting the present officers. Only a small amount of business remains unfinished, and at the meeting Monday evening it is hoped all the affairs of the present enterprise will be disposed of. At the coming meeting the question as to whether another fair will be planned will be taken up and passed upon. It is almost certain that arrangements will be made at once for the coming year, as a contract has already been made with the State Agricultural Society that will give the Macon fair officials the state fair. The State Agricultural Society has been chosen by President Ben Jones a life membership in the organization. A certificate came this morning signed by President Conner and Secretary Martin. This honor came as an appreciation of the part of the society members of the splendid management of the Macon fair this fall.

MILLION-DOLLAR ORDER FOR PULLMAN COACHES

Increased Traffic Has Forced the Southern Pacific to Make the Expenditure.

San Francisco, November 12.—A million-dollar order for new Pullman coaches intended for use on limited trains between San Francisco and Portland and Los Angeles has been placed by the officials of the Southern Pacific company, according to announcement made today. The order provides for fifty cars, and is said to be due to the increased traffic. In addition to this, another expenditure of $1,000,000 is to be made for 220 passenger coaches intended for use on the lines of the Pacific coast.

Eight—twenty evening, seven forty-five morning, are the departing times of A., B. & A. trains. Sleeper at night. Call ticket office, Bell phone 11, Atlanta 223.

REALTY TRUST CO.

Capital Stock $600,000

The Man Who Helps Atlanta Helps Himself

To those who care to share in the certain Profits of Growing Atlanta:

The Atlanta Spirit representing the enterprise, progress and confidence of all citizens in a Better and Greater Atlanta is an asset valuable beyond estimate. Every one knows Atlanta will not fail. And it is with such an absolutely certain dividend-paying investment right at our doors that I have organized The Realty Trust Company and inaugurated the Co-operative Ownership Plan, so successful in the East and West, that every Atlantian may share in the big profits which have been the direct result of their push and patriotism.

Personally, I think I may say I have had some share in helping Atlanta and I know I have always been benefited. Saving money for your city means placing deposits to your own and your children's credit. I have been glad to help save money for Atlanta many times. By securing an option on a suitable property, I was able to force better terms for the 300 acres now occupied by the Federal Prison, this reservation being purchased by the city and given to the government to secure this big institution. The direct saving to the city was $15,000 to $20,000.

In 1904 I circulated a petition securing the purchase of Piedmont Park by the city for $99,000.00 for the 185 acres. Recently, I offered to get $200,000 for only 30 acres of this Park, half to be used in beautifying Piedmont and half for establishing a permanent Exposition at Lakewood. So the deal was not a bad one for Atlanta, although many claimed $99,000 was exorbitant at that time.

Again I was able by securing options on the block just west of the new Post Office to secure that much needed building, when the owners of the property first considered, refused to make terms and the whole proposition almost fell through. But with my option I was not only able to bring to terms the owners of the property selected, but forced them to accept a price which saved the city $25,000.

All kinds of chickens, especially those born of local patriotism, come home to roost and the new $1,200,000 Post Office is now a most important asset in my North Forsyth street improvements.

Other Atlantians—just lots of them—have made similar savings for the city, until today Atlanta's enterprise, growth and improvement have attracted national attention. I insist that all who have built up the city should share in those dividends that belong to increased rentals and advanced ground values on central business property rather than leave these unequalled profits to a very few wealthy people. We all have to share in the added costs and extra expenses. Turn about is fair play.

The Co-operative Ownership Plan offered this opportunity to turn about in the growing cities of the East and West and made many thousands of wage-earners and small salaried citizens rich. The Realty Trust Company now offers this same opportunity to Atlanta and Southern small investors for the first time. The subscription books are now open. Prospectus and illustrated folders describing plan and all improvements will be sent upon request.

Atlanta, Nov. 12, 1908.

EDWIN P. ANSLEY

P. S.—Since beginning my Ansley Park operations I have added over $2,500,000 in tax values to Atlanta in the Park and vicinity. My North Forsyth improvements will add double this amount in a very short time.

LOFTS FOR RENT

On Hunter street, between Central and Pryor, we are now remodeling a building that will have on second floor a loft having space of 40x80 feet. It will be well lighted, having windows on three sides, and can be rented as a whole or divided into two equal spaces. Price for entire space, $50.
Immediately in the rear of this property we have a vacant lot, 40x45 feet, with alley entrance from Hunter street. We are prepared to erect a warehouse building on this to suit tenant, and can give as much space as may be desired. Price according to size of building.

Meet Prosperity a good half-way

The article you make or handle may be something everybody uses and needs daily, and it may have merit away over anything of its kind on the market, and yet stay in the store-rooms of your factory or on the shelves of your store forever. In fact, it is likely to do that very thing, or something nearly like it, if you don't tell folks about it. Another thing the result will be about the same if your advertising does not get the attention of those to whom you send it. The advertising matter we make sells the goods; "Salesmanship-on-paper" is our specialty. Election over, meet prosperity a good half-way—anyway, let us start yours now, today.
